Nixon's Secret Viet Session Underway

(UPI TELEPHOTO)

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the United States renewed air strikes on the outskirts of Hanoi, President Nixon met with his highest-level advisors today to chart new Vietnam strategy.

The President's Moscow summit visit was perhaps swaying in the balance as he conferred in the Cabinet Room with members of the National Security Council and other top advisors. The meeting was cloaked in such secrecy that the White House refused even to say who was attending. A spokesman also said he expected no announcement following the session.

A few hours before the meeting began, reliable American sources in Saigon said Nixon had ordered U.S. warplanes to bomb fuel and supply depots and other military targets on the edges of Hanoi.

They were the first raids in the Hanoi area since April 16. The urgency of the National Security Council meeting was underscored by Nixon's orders for Secretary of State William P. Rogers to interrupt his tour of European capitals to return to the United States for the session.

There was no official indication of whether the President had already made his decision, or whether he was still considering a set of options designed to stem the current North Vietnamese offensive and begin meaningful Vietnam peace talks.

The options reportedly range from a naval blockade of Haiphong Harbor to renewed bombing of military targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas to possible dispatch of Marines now on Navy ships in the China Sea to protect U.S. installations and troops in the beleaguered Hue region.

The National Security Council meets irregularly and only when major decisions are in the making. Its staff is headed by presidential advisor Henry A. Kissinger and its members include the secretaries of State and Defense, the vice president, the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and the director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Today's meeting comes precisely two weeks before Nixon is scheduled to arrive in Moscow for the week of summit talks with Soviet leaders.

While officials at the White House, State Department and elsewhere have attempted to keep the Vietnam crisis separate from the Moscow summit, the two are obviously linked.

Kissinger, for example, talked extensively about Vietnam when he met two weeks ago in Moscow with Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev. Kissinger's secret Moscow journey was followed a week later by a quick, clandestine trip to Paris where he met with North Vietnamese negotiator Le Duc Tho. Two days after that the United States and South Vietnam for the second time suspended the public peace talks.

Another link between the Soviets and the Vietnam situation is the steady supply of equipment that Moscow has sent to Hanoi.

When the Soviet Union said four of its ships were damaged during U.S. bombing raids on Haiphong Harbor a month ago, Washington replied that any such damage was regrettable, if it in fact occurred. But the State Department added that "countries which supply offensive weapons equipment to the North Vietnamese and enable them to mount an invasion of South Vietnam share responsibility."

U.S. Planes Back to Hanoi

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes returned to the Hanoi area today for the first time in three weeks and bombed fuel and supply depots and other military targets on the edges of the North Vietnamese capital, reliable American sources reported.

The U.S. Navy planes from carriers in the Tonkin Gulf shot down several North Vietnamese MIG interceptors, the sources said. The U.S. Command said it would have no immediate comment, nor was there any report of U.S. losses.

Sources said the first raids on the Hanoi area since April 16 were ordered by President Nixon. They were launched about midmorning, a few hours before Nixon was to meet with the National Security Council in Washington to discuss actions that might slow the 40-day-old North Vietnamese offensive in South Vietnam and force Hanoi to enter into meaningful peace negotiations.

On the battlefronts in South Vietnam, North Vietnamese troops poured hundreds of shells into bases in the central highlands, and fighting erupted anew for control of Highway 14 between Pelidu and Kontum. The northernmost defense line 20 miles north of Hue continued to hold.

A U.S. officer said that American planes have knocked out all 20 bridges along Highway 1 in the 30 miles between the northern defense line and the demilitarized zone. Informants said U.S. fighter bombers have been averaging about 125 strikes per day over North Vietnam.

The North Vietnamese Foreign Ministry said U.S. planes bombed six North Vietnamese provinces Sunday, coming within 50 miles of Hanoi and Haiphong and causing extensive civilian casualties and damage. The report broadcast by Radio Hanoi, said factories, schools, markets and agricultural cooperatives were hit in Ninh Binh, Thanh Hoa, Nghe An, Ha Tinh, Nam Ha and Quang Binh provinces.

Another Hanoi broadcast claimed that five U.S. planes were shot down Saturday and Sunday. U.S. B52 bombers continued hammering at enemy targets across South Vietnam. Ground troops who went into one B52 target area in the Mekong Delta reported indications that 100 enemy were killed.

The South Vietnamese command reported a "slight increase" in enemy activity near Hue.

More enemy pressure built up on bases around Kontum City in the central highlands. Fire Base 41, 12 miles south of Kontum, was shelled today, field reports said, and ground clashes were reported as government forces tried to gain control of Highway 14.

Sporadic clashes continued north of Saigon on the way to a besieged An Loc, and An Loc itself was heavily shelled.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reaches back through two decades of history in hearings this week exploring the origin of U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., announced the hearings today, after the committee made public a staff report assessing the current prospects for peace as bleak.

Fulbright said the hearings Tuesday through Thursday are designed "to illuminate the lessons of the past and benefit present and future policy."

Testimony will be based on the once secret Pentagon Papers which traced U.S. involvement in Vietnam through the Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Police said today that Wojcik was arrested two years ago in Ellenville for assault with a deadly weapon (knife) and was arrested in New York City before that for armed robbery. Troopers said the Wojcik had been experiencing marital difficulties for the past several months and was under an "order of protection" from Ulster County Family Court, restraining him from harassing his wife. Wojcik had reportedly locked his wife in the trunk of their car last month.

Troopers said the Wojcik had been experiencing marital difficulties for the past several months and was under an "order of protection" from Ulster County Family Court, restraining him from harassing his wife. Wojcik had reportedly locked his wife in the trunk of their car last month.

The staff report concluded that the success of President Nixon's Vietnamization policy has no bearing on the prospects for peace in the embattled nation.

"It seems clear that the North Vietnamese will be able to continue to use the territory of Laos and Cambodia to pursue the war in South Vietnam, no matter how successful Vietnamization proves to be, and to keep South Vietnam in a state of permanent siege," said the document.

The analysis was based on the assessments of James G. Lowenstein and Richard M. Moose, committee staff members who visited Laos, Cambodia and Thailand last January.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., chairman of the subcommittee on U.S. security agreements, released parts of it Sunday after executive branch security officers censored it.

The foreign relations panel's hearings begin with testimony by Dr. Leslie Gelb, chairman of the task force which conducted the Defense Department study that became known as the Pentagon Papers after widespread publication last June.

Other witnesses will include James C. Thomson Jr., a former White House aide and now a Harvard history professor; Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., an assistant to former Presidents Kennedy and Johnson; and Noam Chomsky, a professor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and a member of the Committee of Concerned Asian Scholars.

In another development, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy insisted that U.S. aid programs for refugees in Laos still are being used to support military operations.

Victim Holds Daughters at Knifepoint

Fatal Shooting Ends 16-Hour Search

By JON POWERS

KERHONKSON — A 26-year-old Kerhonkson father, holding a six-inch hunting knife at the throat of his eldest daughter in the back seat of the family car, was shot in the head and killed Sunday night by a State Police Zone Sergeant.

Sgt. Stanley M. Kowalik, 32, a ten-year veteran of the New York State Police, fired one shot from point-blank range at Henry Wojcik of Maple Avenue, Kerhonkson. The bullet from Kowalik's service revolver tore into Wojcik's head, killing him instantly.

Wojcik's two daughters, six-year-old Alaina and three-year-old Lisa, who were being held at knifepoint in the backseat of the car, escaped unharmed, although they were treated for shock. Wojcik's wife, Maria, who was at the scene, collapsed after the shooting and was admitted to Ellenville Community Hospital.

Ulster County District Attorney Francis J. Vogt said today he assumed his department will conduct an investigation into the fatal shooting, and that the case will be presented to the Grand Jury.

Sunday's shooting capped an intensive, 16-hour search for the shooting victim, who police said earlier in the day threatened to kill both his children, and himself. A 90-mile-per-hour chase along Route 209 from Ellenville to Kerhonkson preceded the shooting.

Police reported that Wojcik left his home on Maple Avenue at 7:30 a.m. Sunday with both his daughters after telling his wife that he was going to kill one at 10 a.m. and the other at 2 p.m. Wojcik's departure, said police, followed a fight that morning with his wife.

Mrs. Wojcik immediately phoned state police at Ellenville, telling them of her husband's threat. Troopers alerted police agencies throughout New York and New Jersey, broadcasting a description of Wojcik and his car.

Shortly after 11 p.m. Sunday, Ellenville police officers spotted Wojcik driving through the village with his two daughters. Police stopped the car and told the man to get out. Police said refused to obey, and sped north on Route 209.

Village police pursued Wojcik's car at speeds exceeding 90 miles per hour. The fugitive attempted to avoid a state police roadblock in Kerhonkson, but ran off the side of the road.

Police reported that Wojcik then jumped into the backseat of his car, grasping his two daughters with his left arm and held a hunting knife to their throats with his right hand. Police, including Sgt. Kowalik, tried for more than 20 minutes to persuade the man to release his daughters and surrender, but according to troopers, "He became greatly enraged and grasped the girls more tightly." Police said Wojcik then grabbed his eldest daughter's hair and pulled her head back and "put the knife to her neck in an apparent move to cut her throat." Kowalik, standing outside the car, fired once, striking Wojcik in the head.

Police said today that Wojcik was arrested two years ago in Ellenville for assault with a deadly weapon (knife) and was arrested in New York City before that for armed robbery. Troopers said the Wojcik had been experiencing marital difficulties for the past several months and was under an "order of protection" from Ulster County Family Court, restraining him from harassing his wife. Wojcik had reportedly locked his wife in the trunk of their car last month.

Humphrey, McGovern Favored in Primaries

West Virginia, Nebraska Next

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Hubert Humphrey, who lost a 1960 presidential bid in the coal fields of West Virginia, is heavily favored to win Tuesday's presidential primary there against Gov. George C. Wallace.

Humphrey faces an uphill battle in another primary in Nebraska Tuesday against Sen.

Wallace, fresh from a commanding victory in North Carolina's primary, gave no indication he intends to campaign in West Virginia.

Wallace's win over former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford in Sanford's own state also edged Wallace a bit closer to second place in national delegate strength for early balloting at the Democratic National Convention in July.

Though Sanford was beaten in his own state and had indicated a loss there would knock him out of further campaigning, he said Sunday he'll remain a candidate.

Sanford, president of Duke University, hoped to represent a liberal compromise candidate at the convention in Miami Beach.

Near final vote totals in Carolina were Wallace 408,785; Sanford, 304,397; Rep. Shirley Chisholm, 61,359; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, 30,593; and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, 9,323.

The vote for Mrs. Chisholm, a black New York congresswoman, marked her strongest showing so far in the primaries.

In the delegate count, updated tallies from Ohio and the result of six Democratic-Farm-Labor conventions in Humphrey's home state of Minnesota showed weekend gains by Wallace and Humphrey. The current count is McGovern 313.5, Humphrey 238 and Wallace 210.

In Nebraska, McGovern is a heavy favorite in a state where voter interests are much the same as in his native North Dakota.

Both primaries in West Virginia and Nebraska are straight popularity contests, with delegates chosen separately in convention, 35 in West Virginia and 24 in Nebraska.

There are 11 Democratic presidential candidates on the Nebraska ballot, but only McGovern and Humphrey are considered serious contenders.

Others are Wallace, Muskie, Mrs. Chisholm, Jackson, Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, Sen. Vance Hartke of Indiana, Rep. Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and Mayor John Lindsay of New York.

Republicans in West Virginia will select 18 convention delegates, but there is no presidential primary for them. In Nebraska President Nixon runs against Rep. Paul McCloskey of California and Rep. John M. Ashbrook of Ohio. Republicans in Nebraska pick 16 national convention delegates.

State Abortion Controversy... Compromise Amendment Seen

By The Associated Press

State legislators are expected today to calculate the effects of the weekend entry of President Nixon and others into the swirling abortion controversy as they prepare to vote on a bill to repeal the state's two-year-old liberalized abortion law.

Anti-abortion groups took heart from the President's letter to Terence Cardinal Cooke, of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of New York, in which Nixon supported repeal of the law.

"We are very pleased to have such high-level support, utterly delighted," said Mrs. Imelda Jensen, head of Celebrate Life, a Suffolk County group that claims 13,000 members.

New York City Human Rights Commissioner Eleanor Holmes

Norton, on the other hand, called Nixon's letter a "blatantly political attempt" to gain votes in an election year.

Hudson Valley Right to Life Committee condemns Governor Rockefeller and commends President Nixon for abortion stands. Story on Page 2.

"Only grossly political considerations could have moved the President to insert himself in this already divisive fight," she said.

Birth control advocate William Baird called Nixon's intervention "incredible interference timed on the eve of the voting."

In a letter to the President,

Baird wrote, "your great concern for life is contradicted when an embryo develops into a 19-year-old that upon your orders are aborted daily in Vietnam."

Another letter to Cardinal Cooke in support of repeal of the state law was sent by Rabbi Abraham Gross, head of the Rabbinical Alliance of America, a group of orthodox Jewish rabbis.

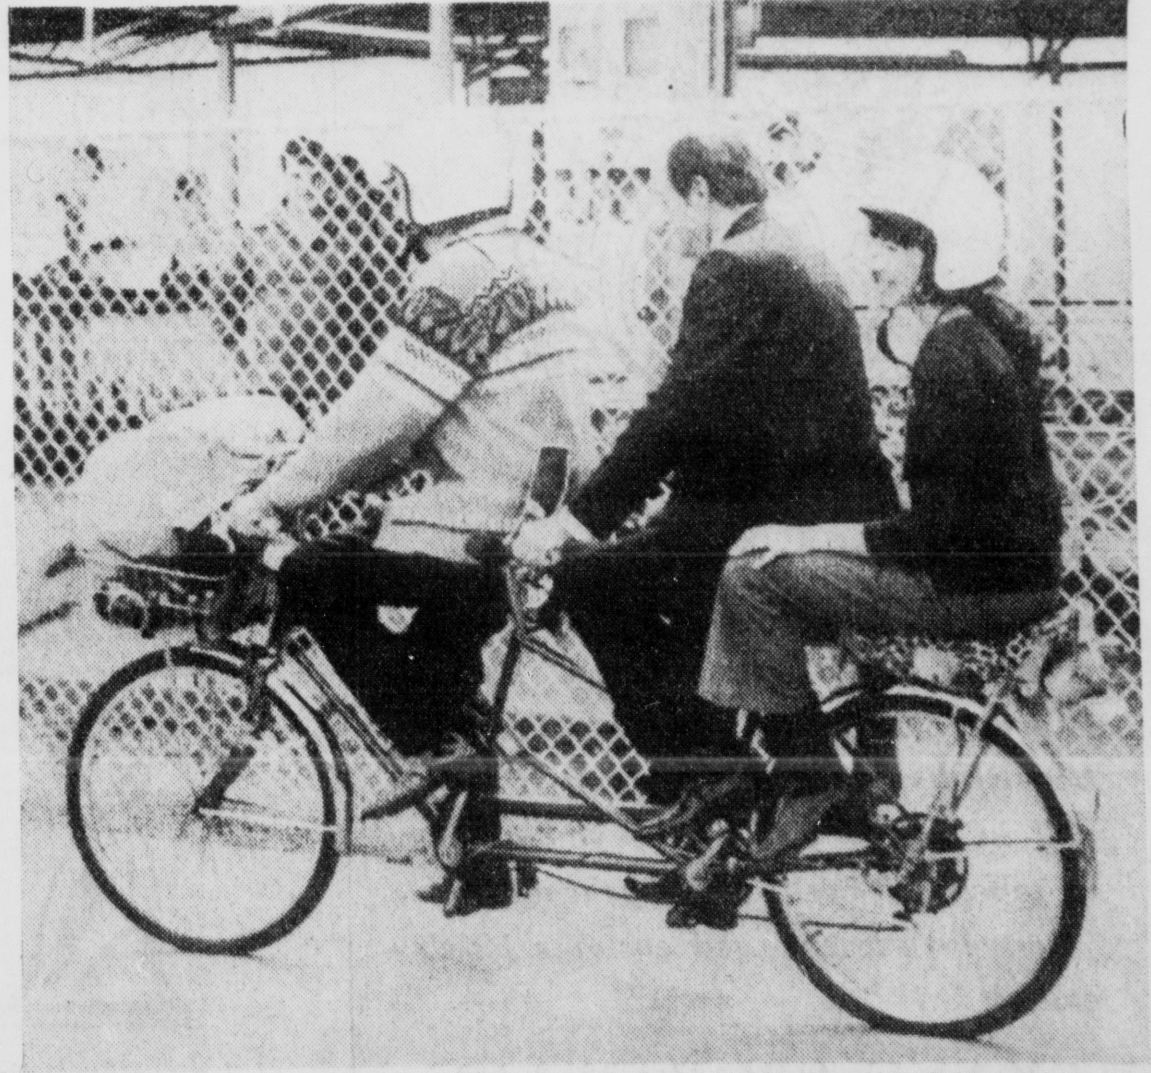

Rabbi Gross said his group was "seeking to end the legalized and wholesale taking of innocent and defenseless life in New York State."

Meanwhile, State Assemblyman Manuel Ramos, D-Bronx, who voted against the measure the last time, said running out for an override of compromise amendment that would reduce the legal abortion time from 24 weeks after conception to 18.

"If we think by repealing this law we are going to prevent abortion we are utter fools," he said. "The affluent college girls will still get their abortions during discreet trips to Europe," he continued. "But the poor young women in the slums and ghettos of the South Bronx will have nowhere to go but to quacks and butchers."

Total repeal of the law is considered unlikely. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who reportedly favors the compromise amendment, has said he will veto any measure repealing the law, and time in the legislative session is running out for an override of

'Forever Wild' Concept

Adirondack Proposal Drafted

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Adirondack Park Agency, making its first systematic attempt to implement the state conservation requirement that the Adirondack Forest Preserve be "forever wild," has drafted a proposal to make some areas of the preserve distinctly more wild than others.

The agency is charged with preparing land-use plans for the 2.25 million acres of state-owned lands in the Adirondack Park, as well as for the 3.5 million acres of private holdings. The private land-plan, which has the greater potential for controversy, must be submitted to the governor and the legislature by Jan. 1.

A first draft of the public land use plan, which will be subjected to public hearings next week before being put into final form for a June 1 submission to the governor, was released Sunday.

Under it, public lands in the huge park would be divided about evenly between wilderness areas, where very little development would be allowed, and wild forest areas, open to much more intensive recreational use.

The proposal identifies 15 parcels of land for designation as wilderness areas. These are defined as sections of at least 10,000 acres where "the imprint of man's work is substantially unnoticeable," and where "primitive recreation" and solitude are available.

Wild forest areas are defined simply as those "where the resources permit a somewhat higher degree of human use" than in wilderness and which lack the wilderness "sense of remoteness."

The kinds of uses which would be allowed in these two different types of areas differ greatly.

In wilderness areas, no motor vehicles and no motorized equipment could be used except for emergencies and for maintenance work spaced out over a period of years. Foot and horse trails and bridges, primitive campsites with fire pits, and lean-tos in groups no larger than two would be allowed. Non-conforming developments, such as ranger cabins, tent platforms, telephone lines, jeep and snowmobile trails are to be dismantled by 1975.

Hiking, tenting, climbing, hunting, fishing, horseback riding, showboating and ski-touring—all activities that involve minimum disruption of the forest—would be encouraged in wilderness areas.

In wild forest areas, by contrast, snowmobiling, motorboating and travel by jeep or other motor vehicles would be allowed. Small-scale dams, horse barns, boat docks, storage sheds, helicopter platforms, telephone and electrical lines, water supply facilities, parking facilities and groups of lean-tos—all prohibited in wilderness areas—would be permitted under the wild forest classification.

Besides these two principal classifications, each of which would include more than a million acres, the park agency proposed an 18,000-acre canoe area around St. Regis Pond in the Town of Santa Clara in Franklin County. Most wilderness restrictions would apply to this area, but motor vehicles could be used by the state to maintain facilities related to boating and fishing.

Fourteen designated areas totaling 82,390 acres would be classified as primitive areas. These generally would be part of wilderness areas but for the fact that a road or some other "non-conforming use" cannot be phased out by 1975. One 770-acre primitive area, for example, is to be carved out of the sprawling High Peaks wilderness area because it contains a road leading to a private Rockefeller family tract of land. The plan states that primitive areas are to be changed to wilderness status as soon as possible and that in the meantime no new structures or roads that would not be allowed in wilderness areas can be constructed.

In addition, the plan provides for implementing legislation now before the governor that would set up a system of wild, scenic and recreational rivers, and for beautifying lands adjacent to state highways.

'Model Cities' Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eagle Pass, Texas, is the very model of a Model City. So is Alma, Georgia.

But whatever happened to New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Gary, that long list of troubled, smoldering American cities where, five and one-half years ago, President Lyndon B. Johnson sought to "set in motion the forces of change" that will make them the masterpieces of our civilization?

"Fund approvals in the Model Cities program, which started in 1967, total $1.275 million through Feb. 29, 1972," says the latest accounting from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

That's far less money than the planners of this major assault of the War on Poverty had anticipated spending.

Robert C. Wood, undersecretary and then secretary of HUD during the Johnson administration, recalled in an interview, "What none of us knew then was that in the same months we were struggling with developing Model Cities, another group was deciding on escalation in Vietnam. We thought we were dealing with a $12 billion surplus."

Still the federal government has poured more than $1 billion into the program. What has it bought?

Ask Floyd H. Hyde, former mayor of Fresno, Calif., who used to be HUD assistant secretary for Model Cities, and now is assistant secretary for Community Development which includes Model Cities and a lot of other programs.

What is happening, said Hyde, is development of "a whole new relationship between what I call the establishment, local government and local decision-makers ... and the poor."

That relationship is making local governments more responsive to the needs of the poor and the poor more understanding of the problems of city hall, he said.

From the overview perspective of a Wood or Hyde, working out the role of the poor has been a fractious, but educational, part of the program's growing pains.

But to Dennis Keating, a former VISTA lawyer now at the National Center for Housing and Economic Development in Berkeley, Calif., citizen participation is an everyday, political struggle.

"In San Francisco, people wanted a veto over projects before they got to the board of supervisors. It was a question of who's going to control the programs, who's going to run them."

"HUD regulations are pitched against any real control on the part of citizen groups."

In Indianapolis, a citizen group called the Near East Side Community Organization has filed a complaint with HUD against the city, charging that its Model Cities program lacks citizen participation.

Government Testing On Phosphate Aging

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—An experiment aimed at determining the effect of excessive phosphates on the premature aging of lakes and streams was kicked off officially here today.

The U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) chose Onondaga Lake on the outskirts of this Central New York State city as its pilot in what is to be a survey of 200 bodies of water that will be checked in the next 1½ years.

The aerial survey will provide information to determine if a lake can be improved by reducing municipal phosphates before a decision is reached to invest large sums of money in municipal treatment plants to remove phosphates.

The program could save the cost of phosphate removal facilities at some treatment plants, where the amount removed might be insignificant because of phosphorus from natural runoff and from other sources such as animal wastes and over-fertilization of crops, an EPA statement said.

Two Huey helicopters and two fixed-wing aircraft used in the project will be equipped with remote and contact sensors. Airborne scientists will use a device called a differential radiometer to detect chlorophyll levels in the water and a thermal radiometer to measure surface temperatures.

A pontoon-equipment aircraft will land on the lake and probes will be lowered into the water to measure dissolved oxygen, conductivity, the acid-alkaline balance of the water, temperature and turbidity.

Samples of water from various depths will be collected, examined for algae and concentration of chlorophyll, and then sent to EPA's research lab in Las Vegas for phosphate and nitrate analysis.

The EPA, working with the U. S. Geological Survey, will study aerial maps to determine land uses of areas surrounding the lake. They will calculate the amount of phosphate coming from other sources, such as farmer's corn fields, to determine what phosphate control strategy to use on a particular lake.

The federal survey which will cost $3 million overall, will complement a five-year program now under way by New York State which will study 60 lakes. The EPA study will sample each lake four times during the growing season.

Thirty-eight lakes in New York will be sampled this year. A total of 400 lakes in New England, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and New York will be inspected during 1972, and 800 more next year.

Man Charged With Assault

TOWN OF ESOPUS

A 41-year-old Kingston man was arrested Saturday night by sheriff's deputies on a charge of third degree assault. Frank L. Bayer of 298 Clinton Avenue, was released later by Town Justice Robert Jordan pending a reappearance Tuesday.

The sheriff's office reported Bayer was booked on complaint of Fred A. Day of Rifton following an incident in that community.

Ecology Essay Contest Concludes

The Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers (IEEE) has recently concluded its annual essay contest relating to the environment, and winners will be announced in about two weeks. Students in grades 11-12 from high schools throughout Ulster County participated in this year's contest, writing on the topic "Saving Our Environment—A Balance Between Ecology and Technology."

Gary Goodstal, chairman of the Catskill Subsection, indicated that the IEEE as a professional engineering society is vitally concerned with finding rational solutions to environmental problems, and, one aspect is to set up a meaningful dialogue among students and other concerned groups within the community.

The guest speaker for the awarding of environmental aspects to the public to attend the awards meeting is Charles E. Rider, vice president of Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. Ecology — Can They Live To Clinton Hotel, Tuesday, May 23, at 8 p.m. Admission is free.

GOP Meeting

The Town of Hurley Republican Club will hold its monthly meeting Tuesday 8 p.m. at Rolling Acres, Glenford.

Guest speaker will be Kenneth Knowles, public health advisor working out of the Orange County Health Department, Goshen. His topic will be Venereal Disease.

The public may attend.

A Sea Race Ends Happily

WASHINGTON — With all the drama of a TV thriller, an American helicopter and Soviet trawler raced at top speed recently for a missile capsule that had plopped into the stormy Atlantic.
The dramatic dash took place on March 18 off the Virginia coast. In a hair-breadth finish, the copter triumphantly retrieved the capsule from the ocean a couple of minutes before the trawler reached the spot.

The missile was fired on March 17 by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) from Wallops Island, Va. This was a classified mission for the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to measure how cloud moisture erodes projectiles, including America's nuclear missiles.

The small, cloud-probing missile soared into the atmosphere, then jettisoned its capsule about 20 miles offshore into turbulent international waters. The capsule contained secret instruments and a homing beacon. But recovery from the high waves was impossible.

Next day, the waves had calmed but the beacon was dead. Finally, a fixed-wing scouting plane spotted the capsule and hovered protectively over it. Rushing toward the capsule, however, was a Soviet fishing boat. The Soviets have outfitted many of these ships with the latest electronic monitoring equipment. The boats fish for sea herring, mackerel and U.S. secrets along the American coast. At the approach of the trawler, NASA hastily ordered a rescue helicopter into the race. The clattering copter and the straining trawler almost converged on the size at the same time. But the copter reached the capsule ahead of the boat and dropped down in the waves, while the American crew expertly fished the capsule from the seas in the nick of time.

At Wallops Island, a NASA spokesman confirmed our account of the sea chase. The trawler may have been monitoring the homing device, or the Russians may have been attracted to the spot by the hovering U.S. plane. But the spokesman acknowledged "our guys were uneasy."

For the Russians to have fished the capsule with its cargo of American secrets from under NASA's nose, he conceded, would have been highly embarrassing. "But," he said, "there's nothing we could have done. Those were international waters."

Nixon Document

The mystery of billionaire Howard Hughes' $205,000 loan to President Nixon's brother Don still has some loose ends that need tying up. When this column exposed the loan 12 years ago, Richard Nixon stated: "I had no part or interest in my brother's business. I had no part whatever in the negotiation of this loan."

From the records of the Los Angeles County Courthouse, however, we have obtained a 16-year-old document which seems to dispute Nixon's statement. This is a lease of the bit of land owned by Nixon's mother, Hannah, which was used to secure the Hughes loan. The lease was made out to Union Oil Company of California and is part of the complicated loan arrangements.

It is signed by Hannah Nixon, and the faded stamp shows it was notarized by William A. Ridgely in Washington, D.C. At that time, Ridgely worked in the Senate financial office, as he still does.

Only a senator or the president of the Senate could have approved Mrs. Hannah Nixon's use of Ridgely's office for notarizing. As vice president Nixon was then president of the Senate.

Ridgely told us he vaguely recalled going to Nixon's house to do notary work. "That could have been the time," he told us.

In any case, it appears that Nixon, or someone in his office, sent Mrs. Hannah Nixon to Ridgely to get a lease notarized on October 12, 1956 — at the same time Nixon said he "had no part whatsoever in the negotiation of this loan."

Washington Whirl

TAX EXEMPT VACATIONS — So shot full of holes are our tax laws that a Palm Beach ad company is openly advertising a "tax write-off vacation" for executives of northern firms. The gimmick: an executive flies to Palm Beach, does a little business with the ad agency, takes his vacation, then writes off the trip as business.

MAIL WASTE — The Post Office, whose mail increases move faster than its mails, has just hit the taxpayer for $1.500 to show off its new training center at the University of Oklahoma. The Post Office flew congressional flunkies and other guests to the center, first class. One of our reporters was offered the same trip when we questioned the waste.

SLY FUND RAISING — Senator Jim Buckley, the New York conservative, cancelled out his $40,000 campaign debt thanks largely to backers F. Clifton White and George Champion. They peddled $100-a-plate tickets to 400 of Buckley's friends and sold full pages in a souvenir booklet for $1,000 each. The sponsors slyly noted that corporations could not buy space in the booklet, but "the ad can read, Mr. John Smith, President of XYZ Co." Most of Buckley's classy friends didn't take the hint, preferring discreetly to use only their own names or simply "A friend." Two exceptions were an agent for Mutual of Omaha and the chairman of the St. Regis Paper Co.

Parochial Schools

The battle over nonpublic school aid is reaching a high pitch. A three-judge panel ruled in Columbus, Ohio that the state's recently enacted voucher system for private school tuition grants was unconstitutional. A similar plan in Missouri was struck down within days by the U.S. Supreme Court. State after state has tried to make provisions for nonpublic school pupils with, so far, no success. All have foundered on court rejections.

Enrollment in nonpublic schools exceeds 5.2 million, about two-thirds attending parochial schools. A presidential panel warns that collapse of the nonpublic school system would not only deprive many Americans of "options" in education, but would place a burden on the public schools and, particularly, on poor and lower middle income families in racially changing neighborhoods where the nearby nonpublic school is an indispensable stabilizing factor. For instance, many parochial schools were among the first to integrate, and peacefully.

Accordingly, the panel recommended supplementary payments toward tuition costs for welfare recipients and the working poor. With 175,000 families whose incomes are less than $5,000 a year, the panel figured the program would cost $30 million, assuming an average allowance of $100 a child for about 300,000 children. Tax credits for families in the $6,000 to $14,500 income range would cost the government about $500 million more. The credit would be $400 a family, the size decreasing as income rose.

Despite recent court decisions, the panel says "the law is still being molded and shaped by both judicial philosophies and political events so that the final phase in the federal drama over nonpublic school education is still to be enacted." A recent decision of the California Supreme Court calling for equal per pupil expenditures among school districts was cited as the first step toward securing "equity" not just for public school children, but for private school pupils as well.

The sentiment is so high that civil disobedience is being preached in some school districts, as well as the more lengthy constitutional amendment process. Parochial school superintendents, determined that they will not "administer last rights to the Catholic schools," are fighting "to right the wrong" done their children. Something will have to give. One in nine children in the country are involved and cry out for a fair solution.

The frequency as well as the degree of violence on the "tube" has raised concern among parents, psychologists, psychiatrists and in Washington. Suggestions for controlling the violence on TV range from proposals for federally-prepared indexes to monitor its frequency and intensity to outright censorship of electronic entertainment.

We believe that Congress should move very slowly. It has made its concern known and the TV industry certainly is sensitive to its moods. Violence, as we have said, does come in cycles, governed largely by man's innate good sense, and we appear to be on the verge of a downturn. In the last analysis, of course, the control of television's violence in the home is as simple as turning off a switch.

Cycle of Violence

Violence always has been present in the world in some form or another. Citizens of Rome, for example, attended "games" to see gladiators slay one another, and they watched people literally being thrown to the lions.

Invariably the periods of violence were followed by cycles of calmness and sanity.

That the United States of America is in some phase of a cycle of violence today can hardly be disputed. Bombings are common, assaults upon persons are increasing, aircraft are hijacked and assassinations of police officers are prevalent. We all are attracted by rugged contact sports and even in our vicarious electronic entertainment tastes tend strongly toward mayhem.

BERRY'S WORLD

Unfortunately for you, I happen to be in that small group of children which is predisposed to violence, and to which televised violence has the most direct effect of increased aggressive behavior!

Emasculating the FBI

Ray Cromley Says

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The kind of man the new FBI director turns out to be may have a greater bearing on your life and mine than any other appointment made by a U.S. president.

If J. Edgar Hoover's 48 years in the post are at all indicative of the future, his successor will, from time to time, face political pressure of the strongest type aimed at using the very considerable power of the FBI in ways dangerous to democracy and to our liberties.

If history is any judge, these pressures will come both from "liberals" and "conservatives" — or men who use these labels to describe themselves.

Hoover faced down these pressures with guts and with some very able marshalling of his political and public defenses. For courage alone is not enough. To defend against such pressures you must have political resources and the ability to use them.

Three examples will illustrate what Hoover's successor will face:

(1) After watching the FBI in operation for something over two decades, this reporter has, on occasion these past few years, awakened at night worrying over who might be Hoover's successor. I would think of the information in those millions of files. A ruthless politician with that data could come close to destroying much of his opposition.

Not too many years ago, this reporter knows that a very high U.S. government official made direct personal attempts to secure the FBI's files for use against his political enemies. Among other things, he had a list of opposition congressmen he wished to assassinate.

Hoover faced him down. Though this powerful politician then set out to destroy him, Hoover was by then so well ensconced and had so much prestige that this man, with all his high connections, could not force Hoover to do his will. But Hoover bore the marks of these attacks until his death.

The question is, could a new man, however courageous, face this type of pressure?

(2) Then again, there has long been a movement within Congress for enlarging the police powers of the federal government. There have been moves to give the FBI more power on the college campuses, to make more crimes federal crimes, thus giving the FBI more authority.

In these piecemeal moves Hoover saw danger — the risk of making the FBI a national police force. He repeatedly told colleagues he would have no part in this — that a national police would be a step toward a police state.

Most assuredly Hoover's

successor will also face this problem time and again — as local violence threatens to get out of hand and Congress moves toward stronger federal crime laws. Hoover's answer was that these problems, great as they are, are for local communities and local police — and the FBI role was in providing information, training and backup for local police forces, or request — and for work on a few truly national crime problems.

(3) A succession of political figures have attempted to bring their men into the FBI — either as a means of moulding the institution to their own partisan objectives, or as a means of providing jobs for faithful retainers.

Here Hoover was particularly fierce. For the ineffective agency he inherited was a shambles because it was backridden and dominated by politics.

It is certain that at one time or another men with political authority will again attempt such infiltration. Hoover's predecessors were unable to resist those moves. It is essential that his successors have the will and the ability to hold firm at whatever political cost to themselves.

Hoover was a human being. Like all of us, he had weaknesses. But when we think of those, let us remember the great strengths, too.

A Singular Book by Warren

Out of the monastic silence of retirement, former Chief Justice Earl Warren comes to write a slender and cogent book called: "A Republic . . . If You Can Keep It."

The title is taken from Benjamin Franklin's response to an anxious woman standing outside Independence Hall in 1787: "Well, Doctor, what have we got, a republic or a monarchy?"

The book is a thinker. You read a page or two about law, and its interpretation, and slam it shut so that the mind of the layman — mine — may deliberate and digest what has been written. Law can be dull. The honorable Justice makes it fascinating.

Warren's premise is that our privileges and freedoms, guaranteed in the Constitution of the United States and the Bill of Rights, will remain viable only so long as Americans wish to preserve them and use them in a "conscientious manner."

Unread or Unknown
Most of us have never read the Constitution, and some of us stretch the elasticity of our rights to the breaking point. Others do not know them.

"Amendment 1
"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

There is a whole world of law in those 45 words. It settles the matter of religion, free speech, a free press, the right of assemblage and the right to ask the government to right a wrong. The "Founding Fathers" may have granted these rights as a matter of equity, but the former Chief Justice cites the case of William Penn, the founder of Pennsylvania, as the whistling whip which scourged the original Constitution Convention.

Penn was a British Quaker. The king's government forbade Quakers to meet for purposes of worship. Penn and William Mead organized a meeting on a side street of London in 1670. Both were arrested on a charge of "disturbing the king's peace."

In court, both men removed their hats. A bailiff ordered the hats back on the heads. They complied. The judge held both in contempt for wearing hats in court. William Penn asked the judge under which law they were tried. The court said: "The common law."

Mr. Penn said that he was entitled to a specific charge. The judge ordered Penn placed in a cage in a dark corner of the courtroom where he could not hear, testify nor confront his accusers. The judge heard testimony that Penn and Mead had been present at a religious gathering of Quakers.

One witness said he wasn't certain that Mead was present. The judge asked Mead if he was at the prayer meeting — in effect, asking the man to testify against himself. Mead said it amounted to self-incrimination. The judge ordered him into the cage with William Penn.

The trial was short. The judge instructed the jury to find both men guilty. The jury returned with a verdict of acquittal. Furious, the judge sent the men back to reconsider. They returned with the same verdict. The judge demanded "a verdict that the court can accept, and you shall be locked up without meat, drink, fire and tobacco . . . We will have a verdict by the help of God or you will starve for it."

Four times the jury deliberated, always with the same verdict. The judge fined each member of the jury and remanded the men to jail until they could pay it. Penn and his friend went to jail for keeping their hats on in court. When William Penn reached these colonies he printed the story in a tract. His imprisonment has a lot to do with your current freedoms.

Three hundred years later, in 1970, the Columbia Broadcasting System conducted a national poll to determine America's will regarding the Bill of Rights. Three out of four would like to restrict the right of peaceful assembly; more than half would like to curb free speech and a free press. One-third would permit police to search any house without warrant; 20 per cent were opposed to the right to public trial.

The book, published by Quadrangle, may never reach the bestseller list. Most certainly, it will not outsell Jacqueline Susann's "The Love Machine." And yet, the former Chief Justice, now 81 and hearty as granite, has done a singular service to Americans.

At times, we may be appalled at the abuse of civil rights radicals, but it is better to let a thousand of them go scot-free than to imprison one innocent person . . .

National Hospital Week

KINGSTON—The opportunity to learn more about health care in general and about hospitals in particular will be available this week when the Kingston Hospital joins with 7,000 hospitals throughout the nation in observing National Hospital Week.

The observance, which is sponsored annually by the American Hospital Association, began Sunday.

National Hospital Week marks the 52nd such observance. A National Hospital Day was initiated May 12, 1920, the 100th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale.

Anthony Triulzi, administrator of Kingston Hospital, explained that National Hospital Week traditionally is observed during the week that includes Florence Nightingale's birthday in recognition of her pioneer work in hospital care. "But hospitals have changed radically since her time, when they were little more than shelters for the hopelessly ill," he said. "Today, they are complex arrangements of services for both the sick and the well."

This year's National Hospital Week theme, "We Want You . . . In the Picture of Health," emphasizes the change in the concept of the hospital's role, Triulzi said. He explained that the theme expresses not only hospitals' traditional dedication to making sick people well but also their modern commitment to provide the framework to keep them well. This commitment is emphasized by national statistics which indicate that for every patient admitted to a hospital bed during the past year, about six patients received care as a hospital out patient.

Upstate Rites Mark Birth of U.S. Grant

The cottage itself was perhaps the biggest attraction, where the clock above the mantel was stopped by Grant's son at 8:08 a.m., the moment of his father's death.

The majority of Grant's personal items are still well maintained, including the pencil and pad he used to communicate during his last days when he could only talk with great difficulty and pain.

Grant, sometimes referred to as "Unconditional Surrender" for the terms he offered an opponent during the Civil War, left scandal and bankruptcy in life.

But, in death he was honored here as a hero deserving the sobriquet.

Red Defector Writes About Cuban Missile Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist diplomats were told following the 1962 Cuban missile crisis that the Soviet Union deployed missiles on the Caribbean island in an effort to change the world balance of power, says a former Hungarian diplomat.

Janos Radvanyi, who defected to the United States in 1967, attributes the claim to Anastas Mikoyan, top trouble-shooter for the late Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

In a forthcoming book entitled "Hungary and the Superpowers," Radvanyi quotes Mikoyan as saying in November 1962 that "the missile deployment was aimed at defending Castro on the one hand, and, on the other, at achieving a definite shift in the power relationship between the socialist and capitalist world."

"Almost in a flash I grasped for the first time the ultimate goal of the Soviet Union," Radvanyi says. "I realized that the purpose of the extremely dangerous Soviet missile deployment was to upset the balance of power."

Radvanyi said Mikoyan also reported briefly on a visit he had with President John F. Kennedy the day before he spoke with the diplomats.

Mikoyan said "Kennedy had given him a firm guarantee that the U.S. Jupiter bases in Turkey would soon be dismantled," Radvanyi says.

Kennedy established a naval barricade around Cuba in October 1962 after it was discovered that medium-range Soviet missiles were being installed on the island.

The missiles were removed the following month after a tense confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union over the issue.

The Soviet missiles reportedly were removed in return for a U.S. promise to remove the Jupiter missiles from Turkey near the Soviet border.

Several Injured in Weekend Accidents

TOWN OF ULSTER — Several persons were injured as the result of weekend traffic accidents that were investigated by area police.

Kirk Schryver, 10, of 131 Clinton Avenue, Kingston, suffered serious injuries at 10:40 a.m. Sunday when his bicycle and a car were in a collision on Route 28 at the junction of Route 209 in this township. The boy was taken to Kingston Hospital by Fatum's Ambulance Service.

Trooper Richard D. Burdine reported the injured boy received a compound fracture of the left arm and lacerations of the vehicle, operated by Charles Foster Jr., 20, of 80 Pine Street, Kingston, was westbound on Route 28 and reportedly passing an unidentified vehicle when the accident occurred.

Hurley Troopers also investigated a one-car accident that occurred at 6:45 p.m. Sunday on Berne Road about 1 1/2 miles from Route 213 in the Town of Marlborough. Trooper R. M. Sparrow reported John D. Markle, 23, of Stone Ridge, was southbound when he swerved to avoid a deer. His car went off the west shoulder of the highway and hit a tree.

Markle was taken to Benedictine Hospital and treated for lacerations of the right arm and contusions.

Allen Tice, 19, of New Paltz, sustained injuries shortly after 5:15 p.m. Sunday when his motorcycle reportedly went down a cliff at Lake Mohonk. He was taken to Vassar Hospital in Poughkeepsie by Fatum's Ambulance. His injuries were not immediately determined.

Meanwhile, Kingston police reported a two-car collision occurred at 3:40 a.m. Sunday on Broadway at West O'Reilly Street. Vehicles involved were driven by Alfred Mueller, 50, of 213 Roger Street, Ulster Park, and Frank J. Stanley, 24, of 46 Garden Street, Kingston.

Police said Mueller, who was cited for passing a red light, was southbound on O'Reilly Street, when the mishap occurred.

Mueller and his wife, Ingrid, 44, were taken to Kingston Hospital by Doctors Ambulance. Mueller was treated for lacerations of the forehead and Mrs. Mueller was treated for lacerations and possible arm injuries. Stanley told police he would see his own physician after he complained of possible injuries of the right hip, police said.

Interim FBI Chief Moving Full Speed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III says he aims to do such a good job in his new post that he will be President Nixon's No. 1 choice to permanently head the crime fighting agency after the November election.

In the meantime, the former submarine commander has moved in at full speed in his effort to take on leadership of the 20,000-employed bureau. He called the 59 special agents in charge of the nation's FBI offices to Washington for a meeting this week, along with a promise that he would visit each of their offices later.

He also hopes to quiz the top 15 associate and assistant directors to find out all he can about their responsibilities.

In an interview, Gray said he hopes to do such a "top notch" job that he may turn out to be the President's "leading candidate" to permanently replace J. Edgar Hoover, who died last week of a heart attack.

In Meridian, Miss., over the weekend, Sen. James O. Eastland predicted Nixon would appoint Gray to be the permanent head of the FBI. Eastland, whose Judiciary Committee would consider the appointment of a permanent head, said he hoped that if Gray were appointed, he would get speedy approval by the Senate.

Gray also said he will remain more open to the press than Hoover did, and added that all government employees should retire at age 70 except in the "most unusual circumstances."

Hoover was 77 when he died, and a target of criticism for the power he had accumulated in 48 years on the job.

Gray, 55, described some of his immediate priorities this way.

"I'm interested in the Files and Communications Division. In our acquisition of information in the Domestic Intelligence Division and the relationship of the FBI to other agencies in this area."

"I'm trying to get a feel in the organized crime area. What is the FBI really doing? Is it commensurate with our capabilities? If it is not, I will step it up. If we're going at full speed I'll step it up."

"It's the same with drug abuse. Should we be doing more? These are hard questions that I'll be asking."

He added that he would take a good look at the FBI's role "in the extremist group situation — those groups inclined to violence."

Gray said one matter into which he has already inquired was whether there existed secret files on politicians. He said he was told there were none, but added that information was still "subject to verification."

Port Ewen Vols Save Structure On Hoyt Street

PORT EWEN — Fast action by Port Ewen volunteer firefighters today saved a two-and-a-half story frame house on Hoyt Street, even though a neighboring home 15 feet away was completely destroyed by flames.

Firemen received the alarm at 5:58 a.m. today. Upon arrival at the scene, they found a two-and-a-half story vacant frame dwelling at 226 Hoyt Street fully involved in flames. The fire had spread to the roof of a neighboring home at 228 Hoyt Street, occupied by Robert Snyder Jr., his wife and five children.

The vacant home was a total loss, according to Fire Chief Clark Mains. Fire damage, however, was restricted to the roof of the second home. Mains said the two homes were less than 15 feet apart.

The Snyder family escaped from their home unharmed. There were no injuries reported to the more than 30 volunteers who responded to the alarm.

Mains said the cause of the fire to the vacant home is under investigation. Firefighters were back in service at 9:08 a.m. today.

Feature Films For Libraries

POUGHKEEPSIE — Sixteen feature length films have been added to the collection of the Mid-Hudson Libraries System through a grant from the New York State Council on the Arts and are available for borrowing through the 61 member libraries in the Mid-Hudson Valley area served by the MHL service organization.

Representing the work of French, Italian, Russian, Swedish, English and American Directors and spanning film history from 1931 to 1958, the productions bear ratings from Classic to Easily among the 10 best films of all time.

Titles of the films in the collection are: A Nous La Liberté (French with English subtitles); Alexander Nevsky (Russian dialog with English subtitles); Animal Farm (Animated film); The Baker's Wife (La Femme du Boulanger — French, with English subtitles); Beauties of the Night (Les Belles-de-Nuit — French with English subtitles); Children of Paradise (Les Enfants due Paradis — English sound track); Hiroshima Mon Amour (French with English subtitles).

Also, The Idiot (Russian dialog with English subtitles); Kon-Tiki; MacBeth (Orson Welles); The Pearl (screenplay by John Steinbeck); The Quiet One (classic documentary); I Vitelloni (The Young and the Passionate — Italian with English subtitles); Volpone (French with English subtitles); Citizen Kan and King Kong.

Four Face Judge On Drug Charges

KINGSTON — Two North Carolina men were scheduled for hearings in city court on several charges stemming from an investigation by police during a routine check of a truck in which the men were riding in the city Friday night.

Police also arrested two youths on charges involving narcotics.

Stanley Hinson, 24, and Larry W. James, 25, both of High Point, N.C., were taken in custody by Patrolmen Larry Stead, James Brophy and Jerry Ausanio.

Hinson was booked for possessing noxious material — tear gas, having no log book on his truck, criminal possession of dangerous drugs fourth degree, having bald tires on his truck, driving without a license, unlawful dealing in fireworks and possessing a narcotic implement — a hashish pipe.

James was cited for criminal possession of dangerous drugs, unlawful dealing in fireworks, criminal possession of a narcotic implement — a pipe and possessing noxious material — tear gas.

Police said they seized implements, a quantity of marijuana, ephedrine tablets and LSD. They also confiscated a .22 caliber blank pistol that was reportedly loaded with tear gas.

Two youths arrested as the result of another incident were identified as Bruce Tubby, 18, of 78 Cedar Street and Thomas Kennedy, 19, of 349 Albany Avenue. They were booked for criminal possession of a dangerous drug — marijuana. Both were slated for city court appearance.

Fire Destroys Ellenville Home

ELLENVILLE — A two-and-a-half story, unoccupied frame dwelling off Route 52 near Ellenville was destroyed by fire early today, according to Ellenville Fire Chief Rubin Hull.

The building, owned by Henry Jensen, was fully involved in flames when firemen arrived at the scene shortly after 5 a.m. today.

Thirty five volunteers from Ellenville, and 15 volunteers from Napanoch, battled the blaze until 11:15 a.m. today. The cause of the fire has not been determined.

Years of Frustration End for Lakers

I GOT IT, BOY: Wilt Chamberlain of the Los Angeles Lakers wears a big smile as New York Knicks' Jerry Lucas wears a grimace resulting from Wilt's right elbow. Action took place in first period. Lakers went on to win fifth game and NBA title. (UPI)

Ask Those Rangers About That Orr

NEW YORK (AP) — Maybe there's no such thing as a one-man team in the National Hockey League, but defense-man Bobby Orr of the Boston Bruins comes closest to it. Just ask the New York Rangers.

"We got another great game out of Orr," Coach Tom Johnson said in almost routine fashion after the young superstar scored two goals and set up the other Sunday as the Bruins defeated the Rangers 3-2 and took a commanding 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven series for the coveted Stanley Cup.

Although playing with a bad left knee which probably will require post-playoff surgery, Orr appeared at his best, breaking his NHL defenseman's record for the playoffs with his 20th, 21st and 22nd points. He set the old mark of 20 in leading Boston to the Stanley Cup period.

"That first period, Orr ran the whole show," New York forward Ted Irvine said. "Not only did he do everything, but when the other guys on Boston struck for three power play

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain's scowl could scare a bear, but he wore a smile of satisfaction when he said, "I think that winning this title should make life a little easier for me."

The 7-foot 1-inch captain of the Los Angeles Lakers relaxed today in his $1.5 million home and the easier life to which he referred reflected acceptance as a team player.

He blocked shots, scored 24 points and hauled down 29 rebounds despite a painfully injured right wrist as the Lakers shook off years of frustration Sunday with a 114-100 victory over the New York Knicks.

That gave the Lakers their first NBA championship since they came to Los Angeles in 1960 and their first since 1954 when they made Minneapolis their home. The margin in games was 4-1, four straight wins losing the opener.

For Chamberlain, this was a big moment. He has been criticized during his 12-year NBA career and accused of not getting along with his coaches or fellow players.

As the Lakers won a record 33-in-a-row and total of 69 during the regular season, there was no such criticism. None came as they beat Chicago and defending champ Milwaukee in playoff games.

The 35-year-old basketball millionaire was named the Most Valuable Player. And it wasn't until late that it became evident he had sufficiently recovered from the sprained wrist suffered last Friday night in New York. He wore a protector usually worn by defensive linemen in pro football.

Los Angeles jumped out to a 10-0 lead and then found themselves 53-50 at the half. Their third quarter made the difference.

Leading 75-74, Happy Hairston sank a basket and then Wilt added a pair, sandwiched around a shot by Walt Frazier which he blocked. The Lakers had built a seven-point lead.

The Knicks made one more run but it fell short and in the fourth period, the Lakers pulled away.

Gail Goodrich scored 12 in the final period and 25 for the game. Jerry West had 23 and Jim McMillan 20 as four Lakers scored 20 or more.

Hairston, the other starter, had 13 points but was second to Wilt in rebounds with 14.

Pacers' Bobby Leonard Predicts Tough Series

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Coach Bobby Leonard, whose Indiana Pacers have played a pair of route-going best-of-seven series on the way to the present ABA playoff finals against New York, thinks his team is in for another tough series.

Leonard doesn't speculate that the Pacers-Nets championship meeting might go all seven games, but he added about the Nets, "they're going to make it hard on us. This is going to be a tough series."

But the former Indiana John Roach to just eight last University and NBA star might half points after shooting 20 in have been looking past Indiana's relatively easy 124-103 first game triumph on the IU Lewis drew praise from both ca he starred a Leonard and Coach Lou Carnesecoupe d earlier, secca of the Nets.

forward George McGinnis who isum — the normal home for pulled off 22 rebounds and tallied 16 points.

"Look at that," Carnesecoupe said, surveying Saturday's box score, "22 rebounds. He's something else. Just great."

Along with praising the Pacers, Carnesecoupe didn't excuse his team. He said they might be tired and psychologically low after just finishing a seven-game series Thursday against the Virginia Squires, however.

"No excuses," Carnesecoupe added. "They (the Pacers) just played a great game."

For the Lakers, the title means about $17,000 extra in playoff money per man. The losing Knicks get about $10,000 by Chamberlain who drew a each depending on how many shares are voted.

Dave DeBusschere of the Los Angeles Lakers said quietly, "We played well, but the Lakers championship assured."

Jerry West: Unbelievable

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Jerry West, who will celebrate his 34th birthday in three weeks, couldn't find a seat in the Los Angeles Lakers' dressing room Sunday night but he couldn't have cared less.

"It's an unbelievable feeling," the 12-year Laker veteran said. "This is something that I've always wanted to experience."

"I know now what it feels like and it's a great feeling. Now we can enjoy the summer."

Elgin Baylor, the other half of Lakers' fabulous one-two scoring punch who retired early this season, was in his old dressing room and congratulated his former teammates on Los Angeles' first NBA championship after being frustrated in the finals seven times.

"I'm very, very happy," Baylor said, "for the team, especially for Jerry."

Wilt Chamberlain, who pulled down 29 rebounds and scored 24 points although playing with a severely sprained right wrist, said: "I thought I could be a help by this afternoon."

He said the championship "meant a lot more than the last one," referring to 1967 when he led the Philadelphia 76ers to the league title.

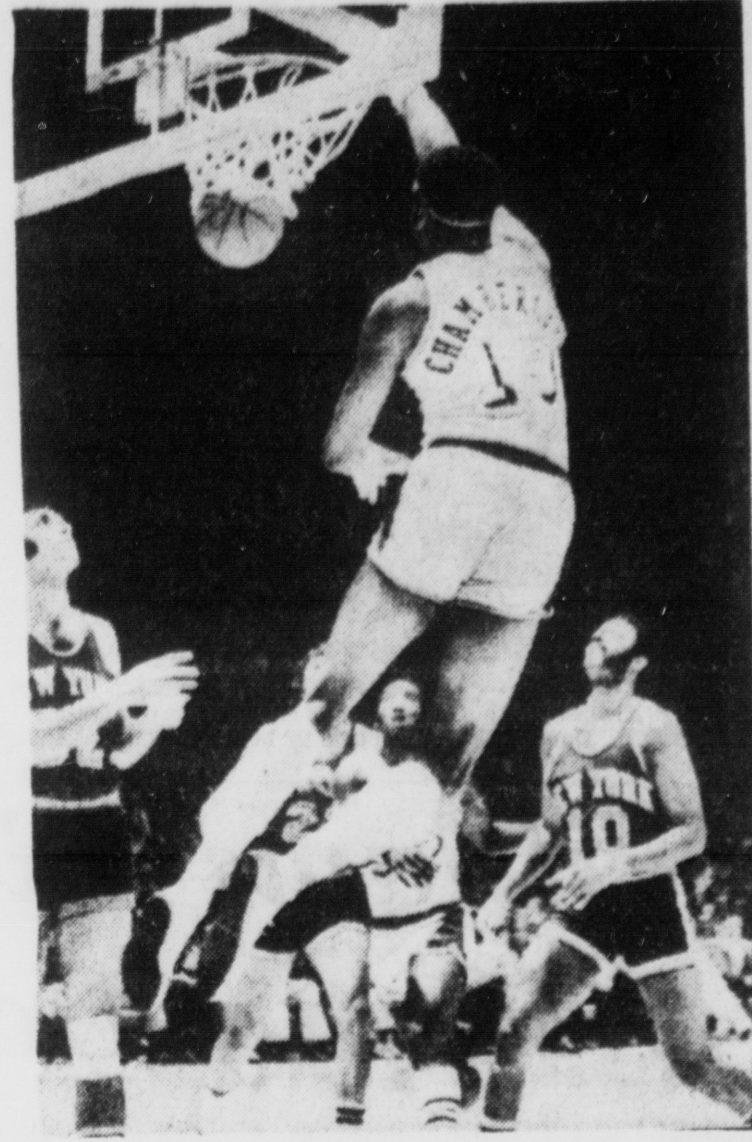

"The 76ers were a great team and were picked to win everything," Chamberlain said. "This team wasn't picked to win much of anything. This team's greatest asset was its toughness."

"I'm not going to worry about next year now. It hasn't been an easy season. There's been a lot of pressure."

Bill Sharman, the NBA Coach of the Year who guided the Utah Stars to the American Basketball Association title last year, was happy the season was over so he could rest his strained vocal cords.

"It's been kind of a goal of mine to take three titles," said Sharman who coached Cleveland to the old American Basketball League crown.

"Tonight we got the ball down quick and I thought we had a lot of poise."

BIG MAN GOING UP: Wilt Chamberlain described as a "doubtful" starter in the fifth playoff game as the result of a sprained wrist, drives one through basket in first quarter of N.Y. LA playoff. New York's Jerry Lucas (L) and Walt Frazier (R) watch the action. (UPI)

Iverson Winner

SHREVEPORT, La. (UPI) — He said he will be playing in the Colonial Tournament for the first time.

Deming earned $3,000 for second place and said he will enter the satellite tournament at Little Rock, Ark., this week.

Rolf Deming, with a final round 69, was two strokes back at 278. Tom Ulozo finished third with a final round 69 and 281 total.

First place earned Iverson $5,000 and an invitation to the Colonial Invitational Tournament this week in Fort Worth, Tex.

Iverson, who moved into a tie for first place after the third round, said he was nervous going into the final round.

"I was shaky at the start but I got a good putt at No. 1—a 20-footer—and it settled me down," he said.

Birdies on Nos. 5 and 16 gave him his fourth consecutive two-under-par round.

The Best Warranty This Side of a Rolls-Royce

You can't put a price on the warranty you get with a Volkswagen. You see, a Volkswagen warranty runs twice as long as anybody else's small car warranty. And only one car, the Rolls-Royce, has one better.

Here's how ours works: All you do is maintain the car according to the Volkswagen maintenance schedule. If any factory part is found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear on service items) any U.S. or Canadian VW dealer will repair or replace it free of charge. See your dealer for details.

More Than 5,000 Inspections Per Car

The story behind our warranty starts at the factory. Where 1,104 nit-picking inspectors have one job, and one job only. To find something wrong with a Volkswagen before that Volkswagen finds its way out of the factory.

Every one of the more than 5,000 parts that go into a VW is carefully examined. Some of them get the once-over two or three times. If one of our inspectors is unhappy with only one of the parts, the whole car gets pulled off the line. Sometimes we pull as many as 225 VWs a day. But it's worth it. We pick the lemons. You get the plums.

The Most Advanced Service System In The World

No other car maker anywhere can offer you Medi-car, Volkswagen's ultrasensitive Electronic Diagnosis. It's designed to spot problems in your Volkswagen when they're at the minor adjustment stage. Long before they can do any real damage to your car or your wallet. Every one of our dealers has VW Diagnosis. And you get the first four check-ups free with a new VW.

The Highest Resale Value

Based on what's happened in the past, no other economy car on the road holds its value after 3 or 4 years as well as a Volkswagen. So, if you're thinking about buying a new car, think about what it's going to be worth when it's an old car. Because when the time comes to part company with your VW, you won't be left holding the bag. Unless that's what you carry your money in.

McGraw's Screwball Deadly

NEW YORK (AP) — Tug McGraw doesn't sidestep base lines, nor wear the same socks on a winning streak. He laughs off such "high school superstitions" of major league baseball players.

The New York Mets' fine reliever believes he doesn't need luck when his screwball is dancing the Irish jig.

"I have to feel that nobody can do a better job than I when I go out to the mound," says the swaggering southpaw.

The San Diego Padres had to feel the same way Sunday when McGraw shut them off without a hit in the final two innings and the Mets pulled out a dramatic 8-6 victory in the last of the 10th.

"I felt like I was throwing well for a change," said McGraw, who got all six batters in the ninth and 10th innings, three on strikeouts, before Tommie Agee hit a two-run homer to win it.

It gave McGraw his first victory of the year and added to other impressive credentials, such as four saves and a glittering 0.56 earned run average.

"I've often said that the relief pitcher is the 10th man in the lineup and should be accorded the recognition that he deserves," said McGraw. "There ought to be official recognition of the best reliever in the game."

McGraw, an ex-Marine, developed into the premier southpaw reliever in the National League last season and very well would have won "Fireman of the Year" if such an accolade existed.

He won 11 games coming out of the bullpen, had a sparkling earned run average of 1.70 and recorded about a strikeout an inning while relying heavily on his famed "screwie."

"I never look back at what I've done," said McGraw. "I don't believe that past performances can help you in the present."

He was every bit as good down San Diego's 1-2-3 in the ninth before Agee knocked in the tying run in the last half with a single. Then after breezing through the 10th, Agee gave McGraw the victory by belting Ed Acosta's curve ball over the left-center field fence at Shea Stadium.

Steve Keeps a Clear Mind

By United Press International Steve Carlton says he doesn't think about the controversial trade, but you can imagine the St. Louis Cardinal fans are giving it some thought these days.

"I never let it enter my mind," Carlton said Sunday when asked about the deal in which he was sent to the Philadelphia Phillies in exchange for Rick Wise.

Carlton's latest victory came Sunday when he pitched a seven-inning and recorded his 1,000th career strikeout as the Phillies dumped the San Francisco Giants, 8-3.

"Right now, it looks as if I'm better off," Carlton said. "This club is going to score more runs than the Cardinals and it's certainly better defensively. It's a nice feeling to pitch with a guy like (shortstop) Larry Bowa back there."

Seventeen Points Behind The Phils, who are just 17 percentage points behind the New York Mets in the battle for first place in the National League East, have a four-run edge on the Cards.

The Phils wrapped up the game with a four-run third inning off loser Ron Bryant, who was the victim of a costly two-run error by leftfielder Gary Maddox.

In other games, New York's a run on an error in the 13th beat San Diego 8-6 in 10 innings. Singles by John Boccia and Billy Stargell hit two homers, including a three-run shot in the seventh, to beat Cincinnati, 9-6; St. Louis nipped Clyde Mashore's walk-loaded Atlanta, 5-4; Montreal edged the bases, Pete Richert then Los Angeles, 1-0, in 13 innings bobbled Mike Jorgensen's tap and Houston at Chicago was to the mound as Bocciaella scored the winning run.

The Pirate pitchers gave up six runs, but Billy Stargell hit two homers, including a three-run shot in the seventh, to beat Cincinnati, 9-6; St. Louis nipped Clyde Mashore's walk-loaded Atlanta, 5-4; Montreal edged the bases, Pete Richert then Los Angeles, 1-0, in 13 innings bobbled Mike Jorgensen's tap and Houston at Chicago was to the mound as Bocciaella scored the winning run.

Williams' Birthday A Happy Occasion

OAKLAND (UPI)—A's manager Dick Williams couldn't have had a finer birthday, unless it was a pennant-clincher.

Down 5-0 by the fourth, the Oakland A's battled back for a 7-5 victory over the fumbling New York Yankees Sunday to make Williams' 43rd birthday one he won't forget for some time.

Ron Blomberg, a muscular young first baseman the Yankees have great plans for, almost ruined the day single-handedly for Williams, the A's and a crowd of 12,347.

He drove in two runs with a lousy double in the first and more with his first homer in the third. Both blows came off A's starter Mike Young and sent the former Cy Young Award winner to the showers. But the best was yet to come and Dave Duncan, still alternating with Gene Tenace behind the plate, started it all in the fourth.

Sal Bando walked after one out and Mike Epstein singled. Yankee starter Steve Kline got Angel Mangual on a long fly to center and then Duncan ripped a 410-foot homer to left for three quick runs.

Joel Horlen held the Yankees off the next two innings, Diego Segui added three scoreless innings and Darold Knowles finished up as A's relief pitching continued to sparkle.

Kline started his own down fall in the fifth. He walked Duane Anderson, hitting for Horlen, to open the inning and then served up a single to Bert Campaneris. Joe Rudi dropped a sacrifice bunt and Kline booted it. He should have gotten Rudi at first but he didn't and that filled the bases and brought on Rich Hinton.

Reggie Jackson grounded wide of first and when Blomberg booted it, Anderson scored Oakland's fourth run of the game and first of the inning. Mike Epstein drilled a single to right for two more runs and when shortstop Gene Michael booted the outfield relay, Epstein raced to second.

Fred Beene replaced Hinton and the Yankees walked Manuel intentionally to load the bases and set up a possible double play.

The strategy seemed to have worked when Duncan grounded to third. Bando was forced at the plate but when Yankee catcher Thurman Munson threw wild past first, Epstein scored for 7-5.

The Oakland relief corps took it from there. Boog Powell, who makes his living by driving in runs for the Baltimore Orioles, figures he may be the best .167 hitter in baseball.

Powell, who had hit into four double plays in his previous two games, hit two singles, scored two runs and drove in another Sunday when the Orioles beat the Kansas City Royals, 5-4. The Orioles are tied for second place in the AL West, a half game behind the Detroit Tigers, who downed the Texas Rangers, 7-4, Sunday for Mickey Lolich's fifth win of the season.

"I take pride in my ability to drive in runs and have won two games with my bat this season," said Powell, who drove in one of the Orioles' two runs in the first inning and started a three-run sixth with a single. "There are no lambs pitching in this league, either—they all look a combination of Bob Feller and King Kong."

Pat Dobson went eight innings to receive credit for his third victory of the year with ninth-inning relief help from Eddie Watt, who took over after Ed Kirkpatrick's two-run homer cut the Royals' deficit to one run. Bruce Dal Canton suffered his second loss against one win.

Lolich Raises Mark Lolich raised his 1972 mark to 5-1 despite a shaky 11-hitter. The Tigers backed the star left-hander with a nine-hit attack which included a homer by Gates Brown and a key two-run single by Bill Freehan in a five-run fifth inning.

Dick Bosman, tagged for six runs and seven hits in four innings, suffered his fourth loss against one victory for the Rangers.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago White Sox, 3-0, the Minnesota Twins beat the Boston Red Sox, 8-4, the Oakland Athletics topped the New York Yankees, 7-5, and the Milwaukee Brewers downed the California Angels, 5-2, in other American League games.

Milt Wilcox pitched a three-hitter and reduced his earned run average to 0.92 for the Indians. He struck out seven and walked two in pitching his second shutout of the year. Buddy Bell drove in one run and scored another for the Indians.

Single Snaps Tie Harmon Killebrew's two-run single snapped a 1-1 tie and the Twins added two more runs on singles by Bobby Darwin and Steve Braun in the fifth inning to give Dick Woodson his third straight win, with relief help from Dave LaRoche and Wayne Granger. Braun had four hits and Rich Reese a homer in the wins' 14-hit attack which dealt Luis Tiant the loss. Tommy Harper and Luis Aparicio had two hits each for the Red Sox.

UCCC Nine to Region XV

KINGSTON — Ulster County Community College's baseball team lost its bid for the Mid-Hudson Conference championship when it split a doubleheader with Dutchess Saturday. But the Senators will still get a shot at the big one—the Region XV title—in the eight-team tournament that starts Thursday against No. 1 seeded Suffolk on Long Island.

Word of UCCC's invitation to participate in the regionals followed on the heels of Sunday's impressive 17-5 conquest of Manhattan CC of New York at Dietz Stadium.

Sunday's win sends UCCC into the regional opener with an overall record of 6 wins and 4 losses and a 4.4 rating in the Mid-Hudson Conference. Orange (7-3) has clinched at least a tie for the MHC title. Dutchess (5-3) has two games remaining with last place Sullivan.

Westchester (4-3), the other contender must face Ulster twice and Rockland once.

The eight teams invited to Region XV tournament are: Suffolk, Nassau, Post Junior College, Kingsborough, Mitchell Junior College, Orange, Dutchess and Ulster.

First round pairings: Ulster at Suffolk; Nassau vs. Mitchell Junior; Post Junior vs. Orange and Kingsborough vs. Dutchess.

"We're very happy with the invitation," said Coach Al DiBernardo of UCCC. "I think we have as good a team as there is in the conference and the regionals will give us a chance to prove it."

Zappone is the team's leading pitcher with a 4.1 record and 1.26 ERA in 41 innings. He has struck out 81 batters and pitched one shutout. If UCCC gets by Suffolk in the single elimination tournament, Tom Gallo will pitch in the second game.

Coach DiBernardo gave shortstop Mike Romano a chance to start a game Sunday and the Washingtonville infielder responded with a strong 7-hitter after surviving a shaky first inning in which Manhattan scored three runs. Luis Diaz, the second hitter, was safe on an error. Willie Matos singled, Joe Lembo tripled and scored on a passed ball. Romano allowed only two knocked in four runs with a double and single. Gallo had three RBIs in three singles. Perry drove in three runs with a double-single combination. The barrage equalled Ulster's best production of the season. Ulster scored three runs in the second and third innings, four in the sixth and five in the bottom of the eighth, when Jack Fitzgerald singled with the bases loaded. Romano re-loaded the bases with a walk and Watzka chased home another pair. Gallo's single scored Romano with the fifth run of the inning.

Ulster Hosts Tourney

STONE RIDGE — Nassau Community College of Long Island defends its team title in the Region XV golf tournament Thursday and Friday, May 11-12, at Wiltwyck Country Club in Kingston.

UCCC's Athletic Director Mike Perry will be the tournament director.

"We expect a field of eleven 2-year colleges besides Ulster," said Perry. "The teams will be coming from New York City, Long Island, and the mid-Hudson Valley and Connecticut." Nassau returns to Wiltwyck with another formidable array, but can expect stiff competition from Orange County Community College of Middletown and Post Junior of Connecticut. While UCCC is not rated a strong threat in the team event, the Senators have two players capable of winning the individual championship in team captain Joe Bostic and Tom Monticello, the freshman sensation from Binghamton.

"We are delighted to again be able to host the Region XV tournament," Perry said. "The Wiltwyck course is a fine one and we expect the visiting teams to post some excellent scores on it."

The winning team and top individuals qualify for the NJCAA Nationals later this spring.

Devlin Clings to Lead

HOUSTON (UPI) — Bruce Devlin, a 34-year-old native of Australia, admits he is not a "terribly active player" because of time devoted to his golf course apartment building attacking them, carried a two-stroke lead into today's scheduled final round of the rain-delayed, $125,000 Houston Open, two strokes.

Devlin was 10 under at 69-70-67-206 and led Hale Irwin by two strokes.

McRae Takes L&M

MONTEREY, Calif. (UPI) — Sussex, England who is a native of New Zealand, battled the 26 car pack until the 39th lap of the first heat to gain the lead and take the checkered flag ahead of Hobbs with a time of 108.19. The former champion was eight tenths of a second behind.

Sam Posey of San Juan Capistrano, the man who was pretender to Hobbs' throne during the nine race series in 1961, sprinted from the pole position in his 5 liter Surtees TS-11B to gain second overall. Third overall fell to Brett Lunger, Pomona, Calif., in a experienced ignition trouble on the first lap of the second heat and dropped to a 10th place finish overall.

McRae easily won the second stanza in 104.980 m.p.h. The 32-year-old McRae, of

It was McRae's first race in the United States and the win came on the heels of four races in Europe.

He had qualified only sixth at Laguna Seca because his racer suffered mechanical problems during the earlier trials. First when mechanics ironed out that problem McRae's vehicle began experiencing overheating problems.

As a result he was able to turn just six practice laps prior to the race. But the little car accelerated well when the chips were down and McRae rocketed to convincing wins to earn $13,800 before 25,479 racing fans.

The race begins a new L&M series season with the next race for the little open cockpit cars

Isaac Stayed Cool

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Bobby Isaac, as cool-headed as any driver around, ignored an official black flag in the Winston 500 Sunday and made a sizeable profit out of one of the wildest stock car races in years.

Isaac, 37, who quit school in the sixth grade to go racing, was leading a bumper-to-bumper duel on the lightning fast Alabama International Speedway with five laps to go when the black flag was displayed as the nose of his Dodge crossed the starter's line.

Officials of the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing had detected the cap on his fuel tank dangling awkwardly as he raced around the 2.66-mile oval, and they displayed the traditional black flag ordering him to his pit for consultation.

Isaac, at the time, was leading the pack by about two car lengths over eventual winner

David Pearson in a Mercury. Isaac ignored the flagman and went blithely on. Two laps from the finish, however, he ran up behind a slower car on the Mercury from A. J. Foyt a high-speed front stretch and was crowded against the wall. 53 minutes and 15 seconds to complete the 188 laps for an averaging speed of 134.400 miles per hour.

$10,000 for Burfeindt

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Betty Burfeindt, Canaan, N.Y., bettered par by four strokes Sunday to win the $50,000 Sealy Ladies PGA classic with a 72-hole score of 282, ten under par.

In adding a final 69 to her earlier scores of 67-70-76, the 27-year-old Miss Burfeindt earned $10,000 and a new automobile valued at $6,000.

Sawyers Annex Circuit Title

SAUGERTIES 25 straight, tied for individual senior honors at 16 yards with Club's No. 1 team edged 970 percentages.

Art Lapp placed third with 960, followed by Stan Gomes (25) .947; Phil Moore .947, Fred Faerber (25) .945. Bob Schmedake (25) .944, Frank Abate (25) .940, Bob Spierl .940 and Herb Zaccaro (25) .930.

Art Smith compiled a perfect 1,000 average in the handicap event, aided by a string of 25 straight. Stan Gomes was runnerup with 960. Tied with 880 were Roy Longendyke and Ray Markle.

Junior honors went to Tom Abate with 907. Runnerup was Mike Mauro with 863, followed by Mike Abate 773, Vinnie Katrine 225, Ridge Runners of Saugerties 213, Saugerties No. 2, 207, and Wawarsing No. 2, 204.

Walker Valley Sportsman's Association placed third with 232, followed in order by Lake Katrine 225, Ridge Runners of Saugerties 213, Saugerties No. 2, 207, and Wawarsing No. 2, 204.

Ray Markle and Jim circuit shoot on Sunday, May Palkowics, both with strings of 21.

Takes White Water Race

NORTH CREEK, N.Y. (UPI) — Douglas P. Bushnell of Buffalo sloshed 5 1/2 miles down the rain swollen Upper Hudson River here Sunday in 27 minutes 27 seconds to win the 15th annual White Water Derby.

The victory gave Bushnell a double triumph. He won the slalom Saturday in 6 minutes 10 seconds over a shorter course, J. Lehman of Granby, Conn., was second in the slalom.

Thomas West of Glens Falls was second Sunday, with a time of 27 minutes 53 seconds.

lapse to drive by and go on to triumph by 4.9 seconds.

Isaac was fined $1,500 for ignoring the black flag, but was allowed to keep his second-place winnings of $13,895. Had he gone to his pit as directed, the best he could have done would have been fourth place for a payoff of $6,095—a loss of $7,800.

Pearson, a three-time NAS-CAR champion, earned $23,745 for his second victory since taking over the Wood Brothers Mercury from A. J. Foyt a month ago. He needed 3 hours, 53 minutes and 15 seconds to complete the 188 laps for an averaging speed of 134.400 miles per hour.

Posay picked up $8,300 and Lunger received $6,500.

The leader through all four days of the Desert Inn Country Club event, Miss Burfeindt finished four strokes ahead of Kathy Ahern, Denton, Tex., who earned $6,000 for her second place 286.

Third place and $4,200 went to Clifford Ann Creed, Alexandria, La., who equalled Sunday low of 69 for an even par 292. Judy Rnakin, Midland, Tex., fell off to a 77 on the final round but managed to pick up fourth money of $3,100 with her one over par 293.

Miss Burfeindt Collected birdies on the first, third, 13th, 17th and 18th holes Sunday with putts ranging from 4 to 20 feet but three-putted the 14th for her only bogey. Her nines were 34-35 against par of 36-37.

"I didn't really feel safe until I rapped in a 12-footer for a one-putt par on the 16th," Miss Burfeindt said.

Miss Burfeindt, who won her first LPGA tournament at Birmingham, Ala., two weeks ago, almost doubled her previous 72 tour earnings of $10,619 in picking up the first prize in the Sealy.

Gail Deneberg of Middletown, N.Y. won $780 on a final round 73 that gave her a four round total of 300.

Debbie Austin of Oneida, N.Y., had a 79 for 314 and winning of $165.

That's where you left your car.
That's also where you left your keys.

Your car is gone. You're left with an empty parking space. And an empty feeling in your stomach. It happens thousands of times a day. Last year over 900,000 cars were stolen. More than half were stolen by kids under 18. And too many people made the thefts easy by leaving their keys in the ignition. This problem is growing every year. We, as new car dealers, are concerned about the loss of property. And we are even more concerned about the increasing numbers of kids who take a car. Just for the fun of it. So we are asking your help. Please remember—take your keys when you leave your car. If your keys aren't there, it's far more likely that your car will be.

Riva Ridge's Derby Win Was No Fluke

Floyd and His Friend

Savago Sets Day for David

KINGSTON George's Hot Weiners. Broadway in Kingston; Benson's II, Savago's Insurance, Log Trail Inn and Dominick's Restaurant, all in New Paltz.

In Dutchess County, tickets can be purchased at the Last Chance in Crannel Street, Gold Crown Billiards, Brighton Diner, Arlington Sporting Goods, Arlington Fire House, all on Main Street in Poughkeepsie. The Village Gift Shop is handing tickets for the Southern Dutchess area.

The show, entitled, "An evening with Floyd Patterson: A Gift to His Friend," will start at 7 p.m. with the Frivolous Sal's Volunteers Banjo Band from the Last Chance. Patterson will then box three rounds with Charlie "Emperor" Harris, upcoming heavyweight contender. A movie depicting the ring career of Patterson, training exercises and a question-answer period, both involving the former champ, will be featured.

Tickets are currently on sale ($2 general admission, $3 ring side) at the Fair Street office of The Daily Freeman, Joan McNally in charge; Uncle

So today there is a strong possibility that not a single one of the 15 other starters in situation," said Homer Pardue, California." declared Paul Saturday's 98th running of the trainer of Derby runner-up No Le Hace, in a state Kentucky. "And he's gonna challenge Riva Ridge again when the Meadow Stable star shoots for the second 'jewel' in the Triple Crown—the Preakness Stakes.

"I'd have to be stupid," he said. "There isn't any way Upper Case can beat Riva Ridge," said the peppery, pint-sized Laurin in his faintly French-Canadian accent.

"If there was I wouldn't enter him. I want that Triple Crown."

One of the Easiest Races Laurin called the Derby "one of Riva Ridge's easiest races" and there's not much argument from his beaten foes.

Ignoring a slight bumping at the start, Riva Ridge came flying out of the No. 9 post and took the lead in the first stride. For one mile, Hold Your Peace tried in vain to take it away from him and then that colt, exhausted by the duel, faded to third in the stretch. No Le Hace, who doesn't crank up until late in a race, got rolling from 10 lengths off the pace after six furlongs, easily ran down Hold Your Peace in the stretch to take second, but never got closer than the final margin of 3 1/4 lengths to catching Riva Ridge.

Jockey Ron Turcotte said he "tapped" Riva Ridge just three times with the whip, never really hitting him, and the champion had a lot left as he finished in 2:01 4/5, one and four-fifths seconds over the Derby record for the 1 1/4 mile.

Hawk Runners Sixth in SUNY

CORTLAND Coach Ed Bell's State University at New Paltz track Hawks captured two first places, one second and set a new school record in placing sixth in the annual State of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC) track and field meet here Saturday.

Host Cortland State captured the team championship with 73 points. Following in order were: Albany State 50, Oneonta 32, Brockport 29, Oswego 26, New Paltz 24, Fredonia 15, Buffalo State 13, Potsdam 7, Genesee 2, PPlattsburgh 1/2.

Disqualification of Mike Frazier, who had been clocked in the fastest qualifying time in the 440 intermediate hurdles, cost New Paltz at least two notches in the standings, Coach Bell explained.

After leading the 440 qualifiers in 57.1 seconds, Frazier tried to run the 120 high hurdles but was unable to finish the race because of a slight ankle injury. Track officials then ruled that, since he did not complete the 120 hurdles, he could not compete in the 440 intermediates.

"It was a tough blow for us," said Coach Bell. "We had momentum going then. However, I was really pleased with the overall showing of the team."

New Paltz's first win came in the 440 yard relay where Earl White, Kevin Davis, Ken Reeves and Kent Cseplo combined for a 43.3 second clocking.

Raymond Jackman leaped the high hurdles in 15.3 for the other first. The mile relay team broke the school record with a 3:23 flat performance. The old standard was 3:24.7 set against Oneonta. Cortland State, host and meet winner, edged New Paltz by one second, despite a poor start for the Hawks.

Arthur Young Is Elected New President for UCJBA

KINGSTON Arthur Young of Saugerties has been elected president of the Ulster County Junior Bowling Association for the 1972-73 season. Young is currently the secretary of the Saugerties Bowling Association.

Other officers will be: Jack Ferraro, Kingston, first vice president; Gerard Kearney, Kingston, second vice president; Nell Glennon, Kingston, secretary; and Jean Gardner, Lake Katrine, treasurer.

The association has initiated a new award for league bowling to be known as the Ulster County JBA County Award. It will be given to boys and girls who bowl the highest triple score in league bowling in their own division — senior boys, senior girls, junior boys, junior girls, bantam boys and bantam girls.

Bowlers in all the establishments in Ulster County under the jurisdiction of UCJBA will be eligible. The Kingston Bowling Association and Saugerties Bowling Associations also have voted to present an award to any senior, junior or bantam boy rolling a 600 triple.

Models Are on Display

POUGHKEEPSIE

Dozens of award-winning model homes, lamps and model kitchens will be on public display this Wednesday at Central Hudson's South Road auditorium in Poughkeepsie from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The entries are the work of students from 60 schools in the Central Hudson service area which have taken part in the 22nd annual lamp building contest, the 17th annual kitchen planning contest and the eighth annual model home design contest.

Each entry has already taken first place in preliminary judging at the participating junior or senior high school. Judging for grand award honors in each category will take place Tuesday. Winners will be announced at a luncheon on Thursday, with more than 200 educators and students expected to attend.

Central Hudson's main office is located just off the Academy Street exit of the north-south arterial.

Judges for the lamp contest are: Jack Bradley, Region Engineer, Lamp Division, Westinghouse Electric Corp.; Clair Harper, District Sales Supervisor, General Electric Co.; George Butterfield, District Engineer, Sylvania Electric Products, Inc., and Walter F. Kraus, Manager of Design, IBM Poughkeepsie.

Kitchen contest judging will be by Richard Brady, Kitchen Design Specialist, General Electric Co., and Miss Elizabeth Goetsch of the Ladies Home Journal.

Judging the model home competition will be Elting S. Burger, R. A., P. E., associate professor and chairman of the Architectural Technology review Program, Dutchess College; Paul Canin, R. A., a Poughkeepsie architect; Jedd S. Reisner, A. I. A., a New Paltz architect, and George V. Hut- ton, a Kingston architect.

Mark Twain's Classic Children's Tale Slated Here

The National Theatre Company will present a new musical version of Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" at Kingston High School on Saturday, May 13 at 2 p.m. This exciting new version of the famous tale is written by Richard Stockton with music by Sheldon Markham and lyrics by Annette Leisten and will be presented with a fully professional cast, an imaginative set and colorful costumes.

Tom Sawyer the story of a young boy and his friends and their adventures on the Mississippi River has long been a favorite and is considered as a classic of American Literature. The story appeals especially to the young person's keen sense of fun and adventure. This new version with country and western music adds a new dimension to the old tale, managing to maintain its original appeal while adding a bit of "today" for its audiences.

"The Adventures of Tom Sawyer" joins a nine play repertory of The National Theatre Company, which is produced by Barry and Fran Weissler. The company is in its seventh year of operations and tours its productions to schools, elementary through college, and as such is the largest and most ambitious company of its kind.

"ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER" — The final performance of the Children's Theatre Series will be a musical version of "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer." Sponsored by the Junior League of Kingston, the show will be presented Saturday, May 13 at 2 p. m. at Kingston High School auditorium. The Junior League urges school-age children of the area to attend for an enjoyable afternoon of live entertainment. Some tickets will be available at the door.

Maenner, Damenchor Concert Saturday

Kingston Maennerchor and Damenchor will hold their annual Spring Concert Saturday, May 13 at 8:30 p.m. at Walnut Grove, Field Court, Kingston.

John Bruening, president, and Julius Hochmuth, musical director, together with the music committee have arranged the following program: Theme Song by Marie Schuler, arrangement by J. Hochmuth; Deutscher Saengergruss, Mettessel; Teure Heimat, Verdi, Mixed Chorus and Orchestra; Consecration Overture, Kellar, Orchestra Ensemble; Tiritomba, folksong; Die Kirschen in Nachbar Garten, V. Hollaender, tenor solo by Karl Heinz; Mannie Froehlich; Estnische Hochzeit, Estland folksong, Men's Chorus and Orchestra; soprano solo selections, Erica Sander;

Sunrise-Sunset, J. Bloch; Love Makes the World Go Round, J. Bloch; Drei Maedelhaus, F. Schubert, Ladies Chorus and Orchestra; Duet, Josephine Brendle and Mariann Hanneke; Senner's Abendstaendchen, Waldmeister, soloists Erica Sanders, K. H. Froehlich, Mixed Chorus; Im Zigeunerlager, Oscheit-Reske; So ein Tab, Lotar Ollas, Mixed Chorus, Kathrin Ulrich, accompanist.

After the concert there will be dancing to the music of John Faski's Band.

The public is invited. Some tickets will be available at the door.

PAW Auditions Set for Next Production

Hot on the heels of its highly successful production of Major Barbara, Performing Arts of Woodstock is beginning preparations for its next production, an evening of one-acts and sketches by Jean Tardieu to be directed by Steve Callahan. A cast of five men and four women is required for this experimental production, which is set for an opening late in June. Auditions will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, May 9 and 10, at 7:30 at the Woodstock Elementary School.

Tardieu's plays are fascinating exercises in theatre. Some are literal verbal music, some precursors of the atre of the absurd, some intriguing minor insights into the human condition, some just plain fun. Anyone interested in taking part is urged to come to readings Tuesday or Wednesday evening. Experience in acting is desirable, but not necessary. Good speaking voices are especially wanted.

If your interest lies in technical theatre, backstage talent is needed too; contact director Callahan at Schuler Lane, Lake Katrine.

Pollution Play Planned Here

The Parents Teachers Organization of George Washington School will present the Merry-Go-Rounders, a touring Children's Theatre Group from Hackensack, N.J., on Tuesday, May 9. They will give a play concerning pollution, entitled "Dirty Air Is Everywhere." The performance will be at 1:30 p.m. This is the final program in a series of cultural and educational programs brought to the school children by the PTO.

Buddy Poppy Drive Underway

Mrs. Andrew Edge, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Joyce-Schirick Post No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has announced the appointment of Mrs. George Beesmer as chairman of the annual Buddy Poppy Drive which is being held now through May 31. Serving as 1972 Poppy Queen is Susan Noble, an officer of the Auxiliary's Junior Unit and daughter of Commander James Noble. Miss Noble's brother Terrence is a Vietnam veteran.

Dale Edge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Edge of 32 Webster Street, Kingston, has been chosen State Junior Unit president. Miss Edge, a past president of Junior Unit No. 1386, also holds the title of Junior Unit Member of the Year for 1969 and went on to claim the title, VFW National Unit Member of the Year. A Junior in Kingston High School, she was Poppy Queen in 1965. Her father is a past Post No. 1386 commander and her mother is a past Auxiliary president and past county president.

Commander Noble urges the public's support during this annual benefit, proceeds from which will be used for the aid of needy veterans, their dependents widows and orphans. To encourage the public's contributions, Mrs. June Drolet of the American Legion Auxiliary of the Rosen-dale-Tillson Post 1219, submitted a history of the poppy.

The poppy as a memorial flower for American war dead is a tradition which began in the years following the First World War. Veterans returning to their homes in this country remembered the wild poppies which lined the devastated battlefields of France and Flanders Field, and the soldiers of all nations came to look upon this flower as a living symbol of their dead comrades' sacrifice.

It was Col. John McCrae, a Canadian officer killed in World War I, who immortalized the flower in his famous poem, "In Flanders Field the poppies blow."

Today, more than 50 years later, that symbolic flower continues to pay tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice in World Wars I and II, the Korean War and the Vietnam Conflict.

More than a symbol, the poppy is a source of hope and aid for many in this nation. It is a handmade flower, made by disabled veterans as a part of their therapy and to aid their rehabilitation. They receive financial assistance for their work. Funds from Poppy Day are used exclusively for assistance to veterans and their families in time of distress.

Each poppy tells its own story. No two are fashioned alike. Each wearer of this poppy tells a story of memorial tribute and of aid to someone who needs that helping hand of understanding.

Noted Lecturer to Present Tablesetting Demonstration

Mrs. H. Henry Staley of Rhinebeck will present a tablesetting demonstration for Hillside Acres Garden Club on Tuesday, May 9 at 10 a.m. at Hurley Reformed Church. Mrs. Staley will demonstrate 10 settings including her award winner at the January Symposium held at The Biltmore Hotel in New York.

A life judge of flower shows and a life member of New York State Federation of Garden Clubs, Mrs. Staley is a former director of the Third District of the Federation of Garden Clubs which includes Ulster County. She is an experienced lecturer before large and small groups on the subject of flower arrangement and tablesetting and has had many return engagements.

Mrs. Staley is a charter member of the New York City Branch of Ikebana International and has completed two courses in the Ikenobo School of Japanese Flower Arrangement. She is a member of the Rhinebeck Garden Club.

An exhibitor with many honors and awards to her credit, she was the top scorer in blues and points in the artistic section of the New York Horticultural Society monthly shows for five years. She is author of a Book, "New Trends in Tablesetting," which was recently selected by The McCall's Book Club. Her arrangement of a tablesetting, Invitation to Beauty, was chosen for the front and back cover of the Flower Arrangers Calendar for 1972. The calendar is published annually by the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State to defray the cost of their quarterly publication, The News.

A tablesetting by her at the 1971 Bryant Park Flower show held annually in New York City was featured in color on Channel 5 TV Midday Show last October. Pictures of her work have appeared in the New York State Federation of Garden Clubs Flower Arrangement Calendars for years as well as in other national publications. Her appointments are handcrafted and contemporary and some are of heirloom vintage.

Mrs. Staley is an active gardener and maintains extensive shrub and perennial borders and a garden of annuals which she cares for herself. She has won best of show awards for collections of garden flowers exhibited in regional shows. She is also an amateur ceramist and makes many of her own appointments for her tablesetting talks.

All area garden clubs are urged to attend. The public is also invited. Coffee will be served at 9:30 a.m. A nominal donation will be charged.

But He Never Promised You a Rose Garden

DEAR ABBY: My husband has one brother and one sister. The brother married a very rich girl and he has no money worries. The sister married a professional man who does very well, and they are also on easy street. They both have lovely large homes, help in the house, etc. My husband is barely making it.

Twelve years ago my father in law lost his wife and didn't want to live alone. The others couldn't take Grandpa because they traveled too much, etc., so he came to live with us.

We gave up our bedroom and moved into a dinky guest room so Grandpa could have the best. For 12 years this selfish, complaining, demanding old man lived with us. Two years ago he suffered a stroke and I had to care for him 24 hours a day, bathing, feeding, everything! He could have afforded to go to a nursing home because he had money socked away and plenty, but he wouldn't hear of it.

I put up with his cursing, complaining and demanding, and so did my children. All the while, he never gave us one penny for his keep! Well, Grandpa died two weeks ago, and his will read:

Dear Abby

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"All my children shall share and share alike."

Would you care to comment?

A COUPLE OF CHUMPS
DEAR CHUMPS: It seems inequitable to put it delicately, but I'm reminded of an old Yiddish saying, "If you come for the inheritance you might have to pay for the funeral."

DEAR ABBY: This is an open letter to my mother: Dear Mom: If you should ever suspect me of taking drugs, please invade my privacy because I know that you always want the best for me.

I always tell you not to worry about me but I suppose that it is silly of me to say this, because if you should cease to worry about my welfare you will cease to love me. I pray that I will never do anything to hurt you or Dad in any way. I also pray that I will never do anything to hurt myself but if I do, and you should find out, I know that you will do everything in your power to try to stop me, and I will love you for it.

YOUR 16-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: I appreciate your letter, and while I know that many will agree with you, some will not. Please read on for another 16-year-old's point of view:

DEAR ABBY: I am absolutely furious with you! What do you mean saying that you thought parents had the "right" to search their children's drawers and closets and go to all lengths necessary to find out whether their children were involved with drugs?

I am 16, and it is my "right" as a citizen to do what I want with my body. And if I want to take drugs my parents have no business spying on me to find out whether I am or not. I have always thought you were reasonably fair minded, but not any more. And it won't do you any good to retract your statement because I am thru reading your column.

FORMER READER

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter in your column relating to the difficulties of getting an arrest stricken from the record after an acquittal:

In Illinois, the procedure is simple: One files a petition with the Chief Judge of the Criminal Court, and states simply that he was arrested and acquitted and desires to have his arrest record expunged.

Not only will his arrest be expunged, but if his fingerprints and photographs were taken, those will be returned by the Chief of Police and absolutely no record is kept of the arrest.

J. L. E.

CHICAGO ATTORNEY
DEAR MR. E.: Congratulations to the progressive State of Illinois!

AUTHENTIC FOLK DANCES — The Tillsoner Bergvabund den Schuhplattlers children's group will perform a series of authentic Austrian-Bavarian folk dances at the Mother-Daughter Dinner to be held Wednesday, May 10 at 6 p. m. at Hurley Reformed Church. The five couples, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnum, will be wearing authentic lederhosen and dirndles as they demonstrate the dances. Previous performances were given at Williams Lake, SRS Home, Scandinavian Village, Mr. and Mrs. Barnum studied folk dancing at a national festival in Detroit with the Ensianer Group in New York, organizing the Tillson dancers last year. Reservations for the family-style roast beef dinner may be made by contacting Mrs. Richard Ruth of Hurley. Dinner will begin at 6 p. m. with the entertainment program and awards at 7:30 p. m. General chairman is Mrs. Raymond E. Johnson. Mrs. Floyd Hixson is decorations chairman. Dancers are Lisa Alio, Jennifer Delora, Charlotte Fraude, Faith Grinnell, Anne Peterson, P. T. Barnum, Eric Fraude, Jessie Hicks, Joseph Huettinger and Norman Lics.

Guest Speaker Named

Mrs. Herbert Decker, national accredited judge of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc. will be guest speaker at the Wednesday, May 10 meeting of Saugerties Society of Little Gardens which will take place from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Methodist Church, Washington Avenue, Saugerties. The program will be a workshop on flower arranging. Members are reminded to bring their lunch.

At the April 26 meeting which took place at the home of Mrs. John Whitenor, president, James Shearer, sales representative for Jackson and Perkins Company, world's largest rose growers and nurserymen in Medford, Oregon, held a discussion and slide presentation on the display of plants and flower arrangements. A question and answer session took place after his talk. Mrs. Francis Lawless was program chairman.

Trees were distributed to Grant D. Morse, Riccardi, Mount Marion and St. Mary's Schools for the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day, April 28. Members attended the Spring District Meeting on May 4 at the Elks Club in Poughkeepsie. Refreshments were provided by Mrs. Frank L. White, Mrs. Francis Lawless and Mrs. Michael Mattia.

Pictorial Coverage of Events Sponsored by Area Women

WOMEN'S FRATERNAL WEEK has been designated to begin on June 4. Last year, members of the Sauter's Columbianettes hosted a tea as a kick-off celebration. Hosting this year's event will be the Women's Club of Sauter's, Columbianettes. Turning over the duties and reins to the club are (L-R) Mrs. Frank Ruddy, publicity chairman;

Mrs. Albert Conti, 1971 chairman; Mrs. Joseph Kramer, president of Sauter's Columbianettes; Mrs. Edward Jabs, president, Women's Club of Sauter's; Mrs. Jerome Mitosek, chairman of the social committee for the club. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

LADIES OF UCT — Attending a reception for Grand Counselor Philip Barone of Rochester for the Grand Council of the United Commercial Travelers of America of New York State and a reception given by Kingston Council 356 Saturday, April 29 were, seated (L-R) Mrs. Samuel Feldman, past grand counselor, Kingston; Mrs. Paul Harris, grand coun-

PATIENT CARE COORDINATOR — Kingston Hospital has expanded its services to meet the needs of its patients in the community. Problems always arise as a result of illness in a family and Mrs. Warren Moon, at left, Patient Care Coordinator in the hospital, is available to assist with these problems. She provides information regarding Medical Coverage as it applies to the individual patient, financial assistance that may be available in times of stress, nursing homes in the area, Home Care programs, rehabilitation centers, other hospitals and child care. Mrs. Moon is pictured with a patient and Mrs. Thomas Buckley Jr., hospital volunteer. (Freeman photo by Haines)

ROSARY SOCIETY — Members of St. Joseph's Altar-Rosary Society held a Communion Supper Sunday, Apr. 30 at Governor Clinton Hotel, Kingston, after 5:30 Mass in St. Joseph's Church. Principals in attendance included (L-R) the Rev. Gerald Dorais,

Piano Recital Given Recently by Peter J. Mancuso

Hartt College of Music, of the University of Hartford, Conn., was the setting recently of a piano recital given by Peter J. Mancuso. Mancuso is a senior music education major at the college, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Mancuso of 171 West Chester Street, Kingston. He is a student of Raymond Hanson, chairman of the piano department of the college, and a noted concert artist.

The first half of the program included two sonatas by Scarlatti, a set of waltzes by Schubert, and the Lebewohl sonata by Beethoven. After intermission, the program continued with three Brahms selections, a suite by Bartok, and eight Chopin preludes.

Brought back for an encore, Mancuso played a tango by Stravinsky.

A buffet reception took place afterwards.

Mancuso plans to return to the Kingston area to teach in the public schools. He also intends to continue performing.

Imaginative, Merry Program

NEW YORK (AP) — Some-thing called "The Special London Bridge" came along on NBC Sunday night. While it made no more sense than its title, it was one of the most imaginative, merry programs of the year.

The hour started in traditional style—Tom Jones wandering around London singing a song. Suddenly he was in Lake Havasu City, Ariz., where the 150-year-old London Bridge has been rebuilt in a resort area. At that point it appeared to the viewer that one of those amusement-park hours was ahead.

It was fantasy all the way. Tom and a pretty girl named Jennifer O'Neill wandered around, mostly singing, against some austere Arizona back-grounds, occasionally mooning over each other and plucking petals from daisies. For no reason, Rudolf Nureyev and a partner materialized in a pas de deux from "Romeo and Juliet." Charlton Heston and Mike London were shown playing a bit of tennis, whereupon a group of chorus boys started dancing all over a court. Kirk Douglas showed up in a cowboy getup and clown and sang with Jones. Jonathan Winters played an assortment of characters, and Hermione Gingold was playing a London bus conductor in a mad love affair with an Arizona Indian chief.

The old bridge had little part in the action, but the whole thing was fresh, completely uninhibited and novel.

Sunday afternoon's "Young People's Concert" on CBS focused on the music of Anton Bruckner, a 19th century com-

Blackwood Also a Safety

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Artificial conventions are essential to good bridge. You should play some as a matter of course. Blackwood as a starter. On the other hand, you don't whip a good horse to death. You don't need to use Blackwood in all your slam bidding."

Jim: "The first thing to learn about Blackwood is that it is primarily a method of keeping out of slams. Take the South hand as an example. South is interested in a slam the moment his partner opens the bidding. When his partner's second bid is a jump raise in hearts, South knows that the material is there for a slam. All that matters is the number of aces held by his partner."

Oswald: "Our example is a classic Blackwood hand. South has 16 points in high cards, plus a lot of distributional points. He knows the total partnership count has to be in the grand-slam zone. More important, he knows that he can set the final contract the moment his partner tells him how many aces he holds."

Jim: "He is mighty disap-

HUNGRY MINERS — A pair of hungry miners who have just come off a rescue shift, are members of a crack crew who went through the smoke in the Sunshine Mine at Kellogg, Idaho, to turn switches off on fans that were exerting pressure on bulkheads causing them to leak smoke and hamper rescue efforts for 47 miners trapped below since May 2. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Power Failure Hinders Rescue Efforts

58 Miners Still Missing

KELLOGG, Idaho (AP) — delayed discovery of the fate of the missing men, who have been unheard from since the fire, started, and smoke and carbon monoxide gas filled the mine.

Marvin C. Chase, general manager of Sunshine Mining Co., said the addition of 11 names to the roll of missing came after "an exhaustive company's personnel list."

Chase said the number of confirmed dead from the fire which broke out in the mine last Tuesday remains at 35. One hundred and eight men escaped. Meanwhile, a power failure

Chase said Sunday the power outage and an exhaust fan malfunction which allowed some buildup of fumes near the shaft ended hope of progress before today.

Outside the mine, families of the missing continued their vigil into the sixth day, holding on to a weakening thread of hope that the men still are alive.

The Steel Workers of America, which represents most of the miners here, said it is asking its president to use his influence to obtain congressional investigation of the tragedy.

Frank S. McKee, director of the union's western district, said the company had given its miners inadequate knowledge of escape routes and inadequate self-rescue equipment.

Preparation of the slim built, let-shaped rescue device called a torpedo, which could lower rescue workers through a ventilation shaft, was completed Sunday, Chase said. Teams pre-said the company had given its miners inadequate knowledge of mile from each other because "we can't afford to jeopardize anything now."

New Legislation Would End Secrecy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Who knows what advisory panels are in bureaucratic shadows? These and other problems in government information in government cars? The public doesn't know, but would under a proposed new law opposed by the administration.

Are costly reports simply filed and forgotten, does anyone keep track of who studies what, do old boards hang on after their jobs are done, is there any follow-up on proposals of presidential panels?

These and other problems involving the power and performance of governmental advisory groups are addressed in legislation due to reach the House floor for action Tuesday.

During lengthy investigations, the House Government Operations Committee uncovered an uncontrolled and essentially unrecorded population explosion of advisory committees throughout the federal bureaucracy.

The panels have spread so far and so deep that officials could supply Congress with no precise tally on them with estimates ranging from 2,600 to 3,200.

Over-all, investigators figured the annual cost to the taxpayers at $75 million.

The proposed new law aims to end secrecy, proliferation, duplication and wasted effort.

There would be a two-year self-destruct mechanism to do away with unneeded boards after their work is done.

OMB officials testified against the legislation. They said that, while they agree with its general objective, they advocate administrative action instead of a new law.

OMB has been promising a directive for more than two years and has assigned just one man to the managing job, operations committee chairman Chet Holifield said.

Italian Voters Going to Polls

ROME (AP) — Italian voters today were winding up the election of a new Parliament with no indication yet of whether the Christian Democrats and prospective allies in a center coalition would achieve a majority.

A massive 78.9 per cent of the 37 million voters cast ballots in fine weather Sunday. There was another seven hours of balloting today.

It was Italy's sixth election since it became a republic 26 years ago.

The Christian Democrats, who are backed by the Roman Catholic Church, have always been the largest party although never winning a majority. They have governed alone or with junior partners. But in recent years their support has declined, with their vote percentage slipping from 48.5 in 1948 to 39.1 in 1968.

Challenging the Christian Democrats are the largest Communist party in the west and the resurgent neo-fascist party, the Italian Social Movement, or MSI.

The Communist party, which increased its vote from 22.6 per cent in 1953 to 26.9 in 1968, feared it might lose votes for the first time.

The neo-Fascists were once considered a joke, but in local elections last June they rode a law-and-order backlash and almost tripled their vote to 13.9 per cent. This time they predicted they would double their membership in the Chamber of Deputies, from 26 to at least 50.

A total of 21 parties ran 8,493 candidates for the 630 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 315 Senate seats.

Small-Scale North Ireland Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Scattered small-scale violence continued throughout bloodstained Northern Ireland Sunday night, and the British government was reported becoming reconciled to the possibility of United Nations intervention if the province's Protestants take up arms against the Roman Catholic minority.

A 7-year-old boy threw an acid bomb at an army scout car in Belfast, burning one soldier's face. The soldier was not hurt badly.

Two boys were wounded by gunfire in Belfast.

Meanwhile, a well placed source said British officials believe Prime Minister Jack Lynch of the Irish Republic will call for U.N. intervention if militant Protestants take the

Bailed Out With $303,000

Hijacker Sought in Honduras

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Honduran army troops combed a heavily forested mountain region for a man who parachuted from an Eastern Airlines jet with $303,000 ransom in one of two marathon weekend plane hijackings.

In the second incident, a young Vietnam war protester commandeered a Western Airlines jet over Utah and eventually ordered it to Cuba. He promised to sneak back into the country and do it again.

Both planes were taken over Friday. The Eastern hijacker bailed out over Honduras

Saturday morning and a few hours later the Western airliner touched down in Havana.

Both hijackings appeared politically motivated, Eastern crew members said the man told them he didn't want the money for himself but indicated it might be used by a foreign power.

A note was given to the Western crew said "several heavily armed members of an anti-imperialist movement" were responsible for the hijacking and warned of further incidents unless the war is settled.

The Eastern hijacker, who was not identified but was described as a Vietnam veteran, seized the 727 trijet over Pennsylvania on the Allentown-to-Miami flight.

The FBI identified the Western hijacker as Michael Lynn Hanson, 21, a former student at the University of Utah in Salt Lake City.

When he took over the scheduled Salt Lake City-to-Los Angeles flight the hijacker first demanded to be flown to Hanoi, North Vietnam. He settled for Cuba when told the two-engine, short-range 737 could not make the flight.

Parents of Boy Lost Last July Cling to Hope

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The parents of a youngster who disappeared last summer in the heart of the Adirondacks say they have distributed more than 2,000 posters and taken out advertisements in college newspapers seeking information about his whereabouts.

"Even the slightest yet definite indication that he is now alive would be a tremendous relief to us," said an ad which appeared in the Albany Student Press, the campus paper at the State University branch here.

Douglas Legg, then 8, disappeared last July while hiking on a vast family estate near Newcomb. An exhaustive three-week search uncovered no clues to his whereabouts.

The boy's father, William Legg of the Syracuse suburb of Baldwinsville, said the family has not given up hopes the boy may be alive.

The ad theorizes that Douglas may have suffered amnesia or adapted to the life of a person or group that might have given him shelter. A person finding the boy might feel, the ad goes on, that he was "a genuine runaway."
